Enter Barnardo and Francisco, two sentinels.

Barnardo

Who's there?

Francisco

Nay, answer me. Stand and unfold yourself.

Barnardo

Long live the King!

Francisco

Barnardo?

Barnardo

He.

Francisco

You come most carefully upon your hour.

Barnardo

'Tis now struck twelve. Get thee to bed, Francisco.

Francisco

For this relief much thanks. 'Tis bitter cold,

And I am sick at heart.

Barnardo

Have you had quiet guard?

Francisco

Not a mouse stirring.

Barnardo

Well, good night.

If you do meet Horatio and Marcellus,

The rivals of my watch, bid them make haste.

Enter Horatio and Marcellus.

Francisco

I think I hear them. -- Stand, ho! Who is there?

Horatio

Friends to this ground.

Marcellus

And liegemen to the Dane.

Francisco

Give you good night.

Marcellus

Oh, farewell, honest soldier. Who hath relieved you?

Francisco

Barnardo hath my place. Give you good night.

Exit Francisco.

Marcellus

Holla, Barnardo!

Barnardo

Say, what, is Horatio there?

Horatio

A piece of him.

Barnardo

Welcome, Horatio. Welcome, good Marcellus.

Horatio

What, has this thing appeared again tonight?

Barnardo

I have seen nothing.

Marcellus

Horatio says 'tis but our fantasy,
And will not let belief take hold of him,
Touching this dreaded sight twice seen of us.
Therefore I have entreated him along
With us to watch the minutes of this night,
That if again this apparition come

He may approve our eyes and speak to it.

Horatio

Tush, tush, 'twill not appear.

Barnardo

Sit down awhile,
And let us once again assail your ears,
That are so fortified against our story,
What we two nights have seen.

Horatio

Well, sit we down,
And let us hear Barnardo speak of this.

Barnardo

Last night of all,
When yond same star that's westward from the pole
Had made his course t'illuminate that part of heaven
Where now it burns, Marcellus and myself,
The bell then beating one --

Enter the Ghost.

Marcellus

Peace, break thee off! Look where it comes again!

Barnardo

In the same figure like the King that's dead.

Marcellus

Thou art a scholar. Speak to it, Horatio.

Barnardo

Looks it not like the King? Mark it, Horatio.

Horatio

Most like. It harrows me with fear and wonder.

Barnardo

It would be spoke to.

Marcellus

Question it, Horatio.

Horatio

What art thou that usurp'st this time of night,
Together with that fair and warlike form
In which the majesty of buried Denmark
Did sometimes march? By heaven, I charge thee speak!

Marcellus

It is offended.

Barnardo

See, it stalks away.

Horatio

Stay, speak, speak, I charge thee speak!

Exit the Ghost.

Marcellus

'Tis gone, and will not answer.

Barnardo

How now, Horatio, you tremble and look pale.
Is not this something more than fantasy?
What think you on't?

Horatio

Before my God, I might not this believe
Without the sensible and true avouch
Of mine own eyes.

Marcellus

Is it not like the King?

Horatio

As thou art to thyself.
Such was the very armor he had on
When he the ambitious Norway combated.
So frowned he once, when in an angry parle
He smote the studded poleaxe on the ice.
'Tis strange.

Marcellus

Thus twice before, and jump at this dead hour,
With martial stalk hath he gone by our watch.

Horatio

In what particular thought to work I know not,

But in the gross and scope of mine opinion
This bodes some strange eruption to our state.

Marcellus

Good now, sit down, and tell me, he that knows,
Why this same strict and most observant watch
So nightly toils the subject of the land,
And why such daily cast of brazen cannon
And foreign mart for implements of war,
Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task
Does not divide the Sunday from the week:
What might be toward, that this sweaty haste
Doth make the night joint-laborer with the day?
Who is't that can inform me?

Horatio

That can I.
At least the whisper goes so: our last King,
Whose image even but now appeared to us,
Was as you know by Fortinbras of Norway,
Thereto prick'd on by a most emulate pride,
Dared to the combat; in which our valiant Hamlet --
For so this side of our known world esteemed him --
Did slay this Fortinbras, who by a sealed compact
Well ratified by law and heraldry
Did forfeit, with his life, all those his lands
Which he stood seized of, to the conqueror;
Against the which a moiety competent
Was gag'd by our King, which had returned
To the inheritance of Fortinbras
Had he been vanquisher, as, by the same cov'nant
And carriage of the article designed
His fell to Hamlet. Now, sir, young Fortinbras,
Of unimprov'd mettle hot and full,
Hath in the skirts of Norway here and there
Shar'd up a list of landless resolute
For food and diet to some enterprise
That hath a stomach in't, which is no other,
As it doth well appear unto our state,
But to recover of us by strong hand
And terms compulsatory those foresaid lands
So by his father lost. And this, I take it,
Is the main motive of our preparations,
The source of this our watch, and the chief head

Of this post-haste and rummage in the land.

Barnardo

I think it be no other but e'en so.
Well may it sort that this portentous figure
Comes armèd through our watch so like the King
That was and is the question of these wars.

Horatio

A mote it is to trouble the mind's eye.
In the most high and palmy state of Rome,
A little ere the mightiest Julius fell,
The graves stood tenantless, and the sheeted dead
Did squeak and gibber in the Roman streets,
As stars with trains of fire and dews of blood,
Disasters in the sun; and the moist star,
Upon whose influence Neptune's empire stands,
Was sick almost to doomsday with eclipse.
And even the like precursor of feared events,
As harbingers preceding still the fates
And prologue to the omen coming on,
Have heaven and earth together demonstrated
Unto our climatures and countrymen.

But soft, behold, lo, where it comes again!
I'll cross it though it blast me. -- Stay, illusion!

If thou hast any sound or use of voice,
Speak to me!
If there be any good thing to be done
That may to thee do ease and grace to me,
Speak to me!
If thou art privy to thy country's fate,
Which happily foreknowing may avoid,
Oh, speak!
Or if thou hast uphoarded in thy life
Extorted treasure in the womb of earth,
For which, they say, you spirits oft walk in death,
Speak of it. Stay and speak!

Stop it, Marcellus!

Marcellus

Shall I strike at it with my partisan?

Enter Ghost again.

It spreads his arms.

The cock crows.

Horatio

Do, if it will not stand.

Barnardo

'Tis here.

Horatio

'Tis here.

Exit Ghost.

Marcellus

'Tis gone.

We do it wrong, being so majestic,
To offer it the show of violence,
For it is as the air, invulnerable,
And our vain blows malicious mockery.

Barnardo

It was about to speak when the cock crew.

Horatio

And then it started like a guilty thing
Upon a fearful summons. I have heard
The cock, that is the trumpet to the morn,
Doth with his lofty and shrill-sounding throat
Awake the god of day, and, at his warning,
Whether in sea or fire, in earth or air,
Th'extravagant and erring spirit hies
To his confine; and of the truth herein
This present object made probation.

Marcellus

It faded on the crowing of the cock.
Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes
Wherein our Savior's birth is celebrated,
The bird of dawning singeth all night long,
And then they say no spirit dare stir abroad;
The nights are wholesome, then no planets strike,
No fairy takes, nor witch hath power to charm,
So hallowed and so gracious is the time.

Horatio

So have I heard and do in part believe it.
But look, the morn in russet mantle clad

Walks o'er the dew of yon high eastern hill.
Break we our watch up, and by my advice
Let us impart what we have seen tonight
Unto young Hamlet, for, upon my life,
This spirit, dumb to us, will speak to him.
Do you consent we shall acquaint him with it
As needful in our loves, fitting our duty?

Marcellus

Let's do 't, I pray, and I this morning know
Where we shall find him most conveniently.

[1.2]

Flourish. Enter Claudius, King of Denmark, Gertrude the Queen, Hamlet, Polonius, Laertes, and his sister Ophelia,
Lords attendant [including Voltemand and Cornelius].

King

Though yet of Hamlet our dear brother's death
The memory be green, and that it us befitted
To bear our hearts in grief, and our whole kingdom
To be contracted in one brow of woe,
Yet so far hath discretion fought with nature
That we with wisest sorrow think on him
Together with remembrance of ourselves.
Therefore our sometime sister, now our queen,
Th'imperial jointress of this warlike state,
Have we as 'twere with a defeated joy,
With one auspicious and one dropping eye,
With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage,
In equal scale weighing delight and dole,
Taken to wife. Nor have we herein barred
Your better wisdoms, which have freely gone
With this affair along. For all, our thanks.
Now follows that you know: young Fortinbras,
Holding a weak supposal of our worth,
Or thinking by our late dear brother's death
Our state to be disjoint and out of frame,
Co-leaguèd with the dream of his advantage,
He hath not failed to pester us with message
Importing the surrender of those lands
Lost by his father, with all bonds of law,
To our most valiant brother. So much for him.
Now for ourself, and for this time of meeting,
Thus much the business is: we have here writ

To Norway, uncle of young Fortinbras,
Who, impotent and bed-rid, scarcely hears
Of this his nephew's purpose, to suppress
His further gait herein, in that the levies,
The lists, and full proportions are all made
Out of his subject; and we here dispatch
You, good Cornelius, and you, Voltmand,
For bearers of this greeting to old Norway,
Giving to you no further personal power
To business with the King more than the scope
Of these dilated articles allow.
Farewell, and let your haste commend your duty.

Cornelius and Voltmand

In that and all things will we show our duty.

King

We doubt it nothing. Heartily farewell.

Exeunt Voltmand and Cornelius.

And now, Laertes, what's the news with you?
You told us of some suit. What is't, Laertes?
You cannot speak of reason to the Dane
And lose your voice. What wouldst thou beg, Laertes,
That shall not be my offer, not thy asking?
The head is not more native to the heart,
The hand more instrumental to the mouth,
Than is the throne of Denmark to thy father.
What wouldst thou have, Laertes?

Laertes

Dread my lord,
Your leave and favor to return to France,
From whence though willingly I came to Denmark
To show my duty in your coronation,
Yet now I must confess, that duty done,
My thoughts and wishes bend again towards France
And bow them to your gracious leave and pardon.

King

Have you your father's leave? What says Polonius?

Polonius

He hath, my lord, wrung from me my slow leave
By laborsome petition, and at last

Upon his will I sealed my hard consent.
I do beseech you, give him leave to go.

King

Take thy fair hour, Laertes. Time be thine,
And thy best graces spend it at thy will.
But now, my cousin Hamlet, and my son --

Hamlet

A little more than kin, and less than kind.

King

How is it that the clouds still hang on you?

Hamlet

Not so, my lord, I am too much i'th' sun.

Queen

Good Hamlet, cast thy nighted color off
And let thine eye look like a friend on Denmark.
Do not forever with thy vailèd lids
Seek for thy noble father in the dust.
Thou know'st 'tis common: all that lives must die,
Passing through nature to eternity.

Hamlet

Ay, madam, it is common.

Queen

If it be,
Why seems it so particular with thee?

Hamlet

"Seems," madam? Nay, it is, I know not "seems."
'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother,
Nor customary suits of solemn black,
Nor windy suspiration of forced breath,
No, nor the fruitful river in the eye,
Nor the dejected havior of the visage,
Together with all forms, moods, shapes of grief
That can denote me truly. These indeed seem,
For they are actions that a man might play.
But I have that within which passeth show;
These but the trappings and the suits of woe.

King

'Tis sweet and commendable in your nature, Hamlet,
To give these mourning duties to your father.
But you must know your father lost a father;
That father lost, lost his, and the survivor bound
In filial obligation for some term
To do obsequious sorrow; but to persevere
In obstinate condolment is a course
Of impious stubbornness. 'Tis unmanly grief.
It shows a will most incorrect to heaven,
A heart unfortified, a mind impatient,
An understanding simple and unschooled;
For what we know must be and is as common
As any the most vulgar thing to sense,
Why should we in our peevish opposition
Take it to heart? Fie, 'tis a fault to heaven,
A fault against the dead, a fault to nature,
To reason most absurd, whose common theme
Is death of fathers, and who still hath cried
From the first corse till he that died today
"This must be so." We pray you throw to earth
This unprevailing woe, and think of us
As of a father; for let the world take note
You are the most immediate to our throne,
And with no less nobility of love
Than that which dearest father bears his son
Do I impart towards you. For your intent
In going back to school in Wittenberg,
It is most retrograde to our desire,
And we beseech you bend you to remain
Here in the cheer and comfort of our eye,
Our chiefest courtier, cousin, and our son.

Queen

Let not thy mother lose her prayers, Hamlet.
I pray thee stay with us, go not to Wittenberg.

Hamlet

I shall in all my best obey you, madam.

King

Why, 'tis a loving and a fair reply.
Be as ourself in Denmark. -- Madam, come.

This gentle and unforced accord of Hamlet
Sits smiling to my heart, in grace whereof
No jocund health that Denmark drinks today
But the great cannon to the clouds shall tell,
And the King's rouse the heavens shall bruit again,
Respeaking earthly thunder. Come, away!

Flourish. Exeunt all but Hamlet.

Hamlet

Oh, that this too too solid flesh would melt,
Thaw, and resolve itself into a dew!
Or that the Everlasting had not fixed
His canon 'gainst self-slaughter! Oh, God, God,
How weary, stale, flat, and unprofitable
Seem to me all the uses of this world!
Fie on't, ah, fie! 'Tis an unweeded garden
That grows to seed; things rank and gross in nature
Possess it merely. That it should come to this!
But two months dead -- nay, not so much, not two!
So excellent a king, that was to this
Hyperion to a satyr, so loving to my mother
That he might not beteem the winds of heaven
Visit her face too roughly. Heaven and earth,
Must I remember? Why, she would hang on him
As if increase of appetite had grown
By what it fed on. And yet within a month --
Let me not think on't; frailty, thy name is woman!
A little month, or ere those shoes were old
With which she followed my poor father's body,
Like Niobe, all tears, why, she, even she --
Oh, God, a beast that wants discourse of reason
Would have mourned longer! -- married with my uncle,
My father's brother, but no more like my father
Than I to Hercules. Within a month,
Ere yet the salt of most unrighteous tears
Had left the flushing of her gallèd eyes,
She married. Oh, most wicked speed, to post
With such dexterity to incestuous sheets!
It is not, nor it cannot come to good,
But break, my heart, for I must hold my tongue.

Enter Horatio, Marcellus, and Barnardo.

Horatio

Hail to your lordship!

Hamlet

I am glad to see you well. --
Horatio, or I do forget myself!

Horatio

The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever.

Hamlet

Sir, my good friend, I'll change that name with you.
And what make you from Wittenberg, Horatio? -- Marcellus.

Marcellus

My good lord.

Hamlet

I am very glad to see you.

[To Barnardo.]

Good even, sir.

[To Horatio]

But what, in faith, make you from Wittenberg?

Horatio

A truant disposition, good my lord.

Hamlet

I would not hear your enemy say so,
Nor shall you do my ear that violence
To make it truster of your own report
Against yourself. I know you are no truant.
But what is your affair in Elsinore?
We'll teach you to drink deep ere you depart.

Horatio

My lord, I came to see your father's funeral.

Hamlet

I prithee do not mock me, fellow student.
I think it was to see my mother's wedding.

Horatio

Indeed, my lord, it followed hard upon.

Hamlet

Thrift, thrift, Horatio. The funeral baked meats

Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.
Would I had met my dearest foe in heaven
Ere ever I had seen that day, Horatio!
My father -- methinks I see my father.

Horatio

Oh, where, my lord?

Hamlet

In my mind's eye, Horatio.

Horatio

I saw him once. He was a goodly king.

Hamlet

He was a man, take him for all in all,
I shall not look upon his like again.

Horatio

My lord, I think I saw him yesternight.

Hamlet

Saw? Who?

Horatio

My lord, the King your father.

Hamlet

The King my father?

Horatio

Season your admiration for a while
With an attent ear till I may deliver,
Upon the witness of these gentlemen,
This marvel to you.

Hamlet

For God's love, let me hear!

Horatio

Two nights together had these gentlemen,
Marcellus and Barnardo, on their watch
In the dead waste and middle of the night
Been thus encountered: a figure like your father

Armed at all points, exactly, cap-à-pie,
Appears before them, and with solemn march
Goes slow and stately by them. Thrice he walked
By their oppressed and fear-surprisèd eyes
Within his truncheon's length, whilst they, distilled
Almost to jelly with the act of fear,
Stand dumb and speak not to him. This to me
In dreadful secrecy impart they did,
And I with them the third night kept the watch,
Where, as they had delivered, both in time,
Form of the thing, each word made true and good,
The apparition comes. I knew your father.
These hands are not more like.

Hamlet

But where was this?

Marcellus

My lord, upon the platform where we watched.

Hamlet

Did you not speak to it?

Horatio

My lord, I did,
But answer made it none. Yet once methought
It lifted up its head and did address
Itself to motion, like as it would speak;
But even then the morning cock crew loud,
And at the sound it shrunk in haste away
And vanished from our sight.

Hamlet

'Tis very strange.

Horatio

As I do live, my honored lord, 'tis true,
And we did think it writ down in our duty
To let you know of it.

Hamlet

Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me.
Hold you the watch tonight?

All

We do, my lord.

Hamlet

Armed, say you?

All

Armed, my lord.

Hamlet

From top to toe?

All

My lord, from head to foot.

Hamlet

Then saw you not his face?

Horatio

Oh, yes, my lord, he wore his beaver up.

Hamlet

What looked he, frowningly?

Horatio

A countenance more in sorrow than in anger.

Hamlet

Pale, or red?

Horatio

Nay, very pale.

Hamlet

And fixed his eyes upon you?

Horatio

Most constantly.

Hamlet

I would I had been there.

Horatio

It would have much amazed you.

Hamlet

Very like, very like. Stayed it long?

Horatio

While one with moderate haste might tell a hundred.

Both

Longer, longer.

Horatio

Not when I saw't.

Hamlet

His beard was grizzled, no?

Horatio

It was as I have seen it in his life,
A sable silvered.

Hamlet

I will watch tonight.
Perchance 'twill walk again.

Horatio

I warr'nt it will.

Hamlet

If it assume my noble father's person,
I'll speak to it, though hell itself should gape
And bid me hold my peace. I pray you all,
If you have hitherto concealed this sight
Let it be tenable in your silence still,
And whatsoever else shall hap tonight,
Give it an understanding but no tongue;
I will requite your loves. So, fare you well.
Upon the platform 'twixt eleven and twelve
I'll visit you.

All

Our duty to your honor.

Exeunt [all but Hamlet].

Hamlet

Your loves, as mine to you. Farewell.

My father's spirit -- in arms! All is not well.
I doubt some foul play. Would the night were come!
Till then, sit still, my soul. Foul deeds will rise,
Though all the earth o'erwhelm them, to men's eyes.

Enter Laertes, and Ophelia his sister.

Laertes

My necessaries are embarked. Farewell.
And sister, as the winds give benefit
And convoy is assistant, do not sleep
But let me hear from you.

Ophelia

Do you doubt that?

Laertes

For Hamlet, and the trifling of his favor,
Hold it a fashion and a toy in blood,
A violet in the youth of primy nature,
Forward, not permanent, sweet, not lasting,
The perfume and suppliance of a minute,
No more.

Ophelia

No more but so?

Laertes

Think it no more.
For nature crescent does not grow alone
In thews and bulk, but as this temple waxes
The inward service of the mind and soul
Grows wide withal. Perhaps he loves you now,
And now no soil nor cautel doth besmirch
The virtue of his will; but you must fear,
His greatness weighed, his will is not his own,
For he himself is subject to his birth.
He may not, as unvalued persons do,
Carve for himself, for on his choice depends
The sanity and health of this whole state,
And therefore must his choice be circumscribed
Unto the voice and yielding of that body
Whereof he is the head. Then if he says he loves you,
It fits your wisdom so far to believe it

As he in his particular act and place
May give his saying deed, which is no further
Than the main voice of Denmark goes withal.
Then weigh what loss your honor may sustain
If with too credent ear you list his songs,
Or lose your heart, or your chaste treasure open
To his unmastered importunity.
Fear it, Ophelia, fear it, my dear sister,
And keep within the rear of your affection,
Out of the shot and danger of desire.
The chariest maid is prodigal enough
If she unmask her beauty to the moon.
Virtue itself scapes not calumnious strokes.
The canker galls the infants of the spring
Too oft before their buttons be disclosed,
And in the morn and liquid dew of youth
Contagious blastments are most imminent.
Be wary, then; best safety lies in fear.
Youth to itself rebels, though none else near.

Ophelia

I shall the effect of this good lesson keep
As watchman to my heart. But, good my brother,
Do not, as some ungracious pastors do,
Show me the steep and thorny way to heaven
Whilst, like a puffed and reckless libertine,
Himself the primrose path of dalliance treads,
And recks not his own rede.

Enter Polonius

Laertes

Oh, fear me not.
I stay too long. But here my father comes.
A double blessing is a double grace;
Occasion smiles upon a second leave.

Polonius

Yet here, Laertes? Aboard, aboard, for shame!
The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail,
And you are stayed for. There, my blessing with thee,
And these few precepts in thy memory
See thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue,
Nor any unproportioned thought his act.
Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.
Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,

Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel,
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatched, unfledged comrade. Beware
Of entrance to a quarrel, but, being in,
Bear't that th'opposèd may beware of thee.
Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice.
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.
Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy -- rich, not gaudy,
For the apparel oft proclaims the man,
And they in France of the best rank and station
Are of all most select and generous, chief in that.
Neither a borrower nor a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow as the night the day
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Farewell. My blessing season this in thee!

Laertes

Most humbly do I take my leave, my lord.

Polonius

The time invites you. Go. Your servants tend.

Laertes

Farewell, Ophelia, and remember well
What I have said to you.

Ophelia

'Tis in my memory locked,
And you yourself shall keep the key of it.

Laertes

Farewell.

Exit Laertes.

Polonius

What is't, Ophelia, he hath said to you?

Ophelia

So please you, something touching the Lord Hamlet.

Polonius

Marry, well bethought.
'Tis told me he hath very oft of late
Given private time to you, and you yourself
Have of your audience been most free and bounteous.
If it be so -- as so 'tis put on me,
And that in way of caution -- I must tell you
You do not understand yourself so clearly
As it behooves my daughter and your honor.
What is between you? Give me up the truth.

Ophelia

He hath, my lord, of late made many tenders
Of his affection to me.

Polonius

Affection? Pooh, you speak like a green girl,
Unsifted in such perilous circumstance.
Do you believe his "tenders," as you call them?

Ophelia

I do not know, my lord, what I should think.

Polonius

Marry, I'll teach you. Think yourself a baby
That you have ta'en these tenders for true pay
Which are not sterling. Tender yourself more dearly,
Or -- not to crack the wind of the poor phrase
Running it thus -- you'll tender me a fool.

Ophelia

My lord, he hath importuned me with love
In honorable fashion.

Polonius

Ay, fashion you may call it. Go to, go to.

Ophelia

And hath given countenance to his speech, my lord,
With almost all the holy vows of heaven.

Polonius

Ay, springes to catch woodcocks. I do know
When the blood burns, how prodigal the soul
Lends the tongue vows. These blazes, daughter,

Giving more light than heat, extinct in both
Even in their promise as it is a-making,
You must not take for fire. From this time,
Be something scancer of your maiden presence.
Set your entreatments at a higher rate
Than a command to parley. For Lord Hamlet,
Believe so much in him that he is young,
And with a larger tether may he walk
Than may be given you. In few, Ophelia,
Do not believe his vows, for they are brokers
Not of that dye which their investments show,
But mere implorators of unholy suits,
Breathing like sanctified and pious bawds
The better to beguile. This is for all:
I would not, in plain terms, from this time forth
Have you so slander any moment leisure
As to give words or talk with the Lord Hamlet.
Look to't, I charge you. Come your ways.

Ophelia

I shall obey, my lord.

[1.4]

Enter Hamlet, Horatio, and Marcellus.

Hamlet

The air bites shrewdly; it is very cold.

Horatio

It is a nipping and an eager air.

Hamlet

What hour now?

Horatio

I think it lacks of twelve.

Marcellus

No, it is struck.

Horatio

Indeed? I heard it not. It then draws near the season
Wherein the spirit held his wont to walk.

A flourish of trumpets, and two pieces goes off.

What does this mean, my lord?

Hamlet

The King doth wake tonight and takes his rouse,
Keeps wassail, and the swagg'ring upspring reels;
And as he drains his draughts of Rhenish down
The kettledrum and trumpet thus bray out
The triumph of his pledge.

Horatio

Is it a custom?

Hamlet

Ay, marry, is't,
But to my mind, though I am native here
And to the manner born, it is a custom
More honored in the breach than the observance.
This heavy-headed revel east and west
Makes us traduced and taxed of other nations.
They clepe us drunkards, and with swinish phrase
Soil our addition, and indeed it takes
From our achievements, though performed at height,
The pith and marrow of our attribute.
So, oft it chances in particular men,
That, for some vicious mole of nature in them,
As in their birth, wherein they are not guilty,
Since nature cannot choose his origin,
By the o'ergrowth of some complexion,
Oft breaking down the pales and forts of reason,
Or by some habit that too much o'erleavens
The form of plausive manners, that these men,
Carrying, I say, the stamp of one defect,
Being Nature's livery, or Fortune's star,
His virtues else, be they as pure as grace,
As infinite as man may undergo,
Shall in the general censure take corruption
From that particular fault. The dram of evil
Doth all the noble substance often dout
To his own scandal.

Enter Ghost.

Horatio

Look, my lord, it comes!

Hamlet

Angels and ministers of grace defend us!

Be thou a spirit of health or goblin damned,
Bring with thee airs from heaven or blasts from hell,
Be thy intents wicked or charitable,
Thou com'st in such a questionable shape
That I will speak to thee. I'll call thee Hamlet,
King, father, royal Dane. Oh, answer me!
Let me not burst in ignorance, but tell
Why thy canonized bones, hearsed in death,
Have burst their cerements? Why the sepulcher
Wherein we saw thee quietly interred
Hath oped his ponderous and marble jaws
To cast thee up again? What may this mean
That thou, dead corse, again in complete steel
Revisits thus the glimpses of the moon,
Making night hideous, and we fools of nature
So horridly to shake our disposition
With thoughts beyond the reaches of our souls?
Say, why is this? Wherefore? What should we do?

[The] Ghost beckons Hamlet.

Horatio

It beckons you to go away with it,
As if it some impartment did desire
To you alone.

Marcellus

Look with what courteous action
It wafts you to a more removed ground.
But do not go with it.

Horatio

No, by no means.

Hamlet

It will not speak. Then I will follow it.

Horatio

Do not, my lord.

Hamlet

Why, what should be the fear?
I do not set my life at a pin's fee,
And for my soul, what can it do to that,
Being a thing immortal as itself?

[The Ghost beckons Hamlet.]

It waves me forth again. I'll follow it.

Horatio

What if it tempt you toward the flood, my lord,
Or to the dreadful summit of the cliff
That beetles o'er his base into the sea,
And there assume some other horrible form
Which might deprive your sovereignty of reason
And draw you into madness? Think of it:
The very place puts toys of desperation,
Without more motive, into every brain
That looks so many fathoms to the sea
And hears it roar beneath.

[The Ghost beckons Hamlet.]

Hamlet

It wafts me still. --
Go on, I'll follow thee.

Marcellus

You shall not go, my lord.

[They attempt to restrain him.]

Hamlet

Hold off your hands!

Horatio

Be ruled. You shall not go.

Hamlet

My fate cries out
And makes each petty arture in this body
As hardy as the Nemean lion's nerve.

[The Ghost beckons Hamlet.]

Still am I called. Unhand me, gentlemen!
By heav'n, I'll make a ghost of him that lets me.
I say, away! -- Go on, I'll follow thee.

Exeunt Ghost and Hamlet.

Horatio

He waxes desperate with imagination.

Marcellus

Let's follow. 'Tis not fit thus to obey him.

Horatio

Have after. To what issue will this come?

Marcellus

Something is rotten in the state of Denmark.

Horatio

Heaven will direct it.

Marcellus

Nay, let's follow him.

[1.5]

Enter Ghost and Hamlet.

Hamlet

Whither wilt thou lead me? Speak. I'll go no further.

Ghost

Mark me.

Hamlet

I will.

Ghost

My hour is almost come
When I to sulf'rous and tormenting flames
Must render up myself.

Hamlet

Alas, poor ghost!

Ghost

Pity me not, but lend thy serious hearing
To what I shall unfold.

Hamlet

Speak. I am bound to hear.

Ghost

So art thou to revenge, when thou shalt hear.

Hamlet

What?

Ghost

I am thy father's spirit,

Doomed for a certain term to walk the night,
And for the day confined to fast in fires,
Till the foul crimes done in my days of nature
Are burnt and purged away. But that I am forbid
To tell the secrets of my prison house,
I could a tale unfold whose lightest word
Would harrow up thy soul, freeze thy young blood,
Make thy two eyes like stars start from their spheres,
Thy knotted and combinèd locks to part,
And each particular hair to stand on end
Like quills upon the fretful porpentine.
But this eternal blazon must not be
To ears of flesh and blood. List, list, oh, list:
If thou didst ever thy dear father love --

Hamlet

O God!

Ghost

Revenge his foul and most unnatural murder.

Hamlet

Murder?

Ghost

Murder most foul, as in the best it is,
But this most foul, strange, and unnatural.

Hamlet

Haste me to know't,
that I with wings as swift
As meditation or the thoughts of love
May sweep to my revenge.

Ghost

I find thee apt,
And duller shouldst thou be than the fat weed
That roots itself in ease on Lethe wharf
Wouldst thou not stir in this. Now, Hamlet, hear:
'Tis given out that, sleeping in my orchard,
A serpent stung me. So the whole ear of Denmark
Is by a forgèd process of my death
Rankly abused. But know, thou noble youth,
The serpent that did sting thy father's life

Now wears his crown.

Hamlet

Oh, my prophetic soul! My uncle?

Ghost

Ay, that incestuous, that adulterate beast,
With witchcraft of his wits, with traitorous gifts --
Oh, wicked wit and gifts, that have the power
So to seduce! -- won to his shameful lust
The will of my most seeming virtuous queen.
Oh, Hamlet, what a falling off was there!
From me, whose love was of that dignity
That it went hand in hand even with the vow
I made to her in marriage, and to decline
Upon a wretch whose natural gifts were poor
To those of mine. But virtue, as it never will be moved,
Though lewdness court it in a shape of heaven,
So lust, though to a radiant angel linked,
Will sate itself in a celestial bed
And prey on garbage.
But soft, methinks I scent the morning's air.
Brief let me be. Sleeping within my orchard,
My custom always of the afternoon,
Upon my secure hour, thy uncle stole
With juice of cursèd hebona in a vial,
And in the porches of mine ears did pour
The leperous distillment, whose effect
Holds such an enmity with blood of man
That swift as quicksilver it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body,
And with a sudden vigor it doth posset
And curd like eager droppings into milk
The thin and wholesome blood; so did it mine,
And a most instant tetter barked about,
Most lazarlike with vile and loathsome crust,
All my smooth body.
Thus was I sleeping by a brother's hand
Of life, of crown, of queen at once dispatched,
Cut off even in the blossoms of my sin,
Unhousled, disappointed, unaneled,
No reck'ning made, but sent to my account
With all my imperfections on my head.
Oh, horrible, oh, horrible, most horrible!

If thou hast nature in thee, bear it not.
Let not the royal bed of Denmark be
A couch for luxury and damnèd incest.
But howsomever thou pursues this act,
Taint not thy mind, nor let thy soul contrive
Against thy mother aught; leave her to heaven
And to those thorns that in her bosom lodge
To prick and sting her. Fare thee well at once.
The glow-worm shows the matin to be near
And 'gins to pale his uneffectual fire.
Adieu, adieu, adieu! Remember me.

Exit.

Hamlet

O all you host of heaven! O earth! What else?
And shall I couple hell? Oh, fie! Hold, hold, my heart,
And you, my sinews, grow not instant old,
But bear me stiffly up. Remember thee?
Ay, thou poor ghost, whiles memory holds a seat
In this distracted globe. Remember thee?
Yea, from the table of my memory
I'll wipe away all trivial fond records,
All saws of books, all forms, all pressures past
That youth and observation copied there,
And thy commandment all alone shall live
Within the book and volume of my brain,
Unmixed with baser matter. Yes, yes, by heaven.
Oh, most pernicious woman!
Oh, villain, villain, smiling damnèd villain!
My tables, my tables -- meet it is I set it down
That one may smile, and smile, and be a villain.
At least I am sure it may be so in Denmark.
So, uncle, there you are. Now to my word.
It is "Adieu, adieu, remember me."
I have sworn't.

Enter Horatio and Marcellus [calling first from within].

Horatio

My lord, my lord!

Marcellus

Lord Hamlet!

Horatio

Heavens secure him!

Hamlet

So be it.

Marcellus

Illo, ho, ho, my lord!

Hamlet

Hillo, ho, ho, boy, come, bird, come!

Marcellus

How is't, my noble lord?

Horatio

What news, my lord?

Hamlet

Oh, wonderful!

Horatio

Good my lord, tell it.

Hamlet

No, you'll reveal it.

Horatio

Not I, my lord, by heaven.

Marcellus

Nor I, my lord.

Hamlet

How say you then, would heart of man once think it --
But you'll be secret?

Both

Ay, by heaven, my lord.

Hamlet

There's ne'er a villain dwelling in all Denmark
But he's an arrant knave.

Horatio

There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave

To tell us this.

Hamlet

Why, right, you are i'th' right.
And so, without more circumstance at all
I hold it fit that we shake hands and part:
You as your business and desires shall point you
(For every man hath business and desire,
Such as it is), and for my own poor part,
Look you, I'll go pray.

Horatio

These are but wild and whirling words, my lord.

Hamlet

I am sorry they offend you -- heartily,
Yes, faith, heartily.

Horatio

There's no offense, my lord.

Hamlet

Yes, by Saint Patrick, but there is, Horatio,
And much offense too. Touching this vision here,
It is an honest ghost, that let me tell you.
For your desire to know what is between us,
O'ermaster it as you may. And now, good friends,
As you are friends, scholars, and soldiers,
Give me one poor request.

Horatio

What is't, my lord? We will.

Hamlet

Never make known what you have seen tonight.

Both

My lord, we will not.

Hamlet

Nay, but swear't.

Horatio

In faith, my lord, not I.

Marcellus

Nor I, my lord, in faith.

Hamlet

Upon my sword.

[He holds out his sword.]

Marcellus

We have sworn, my lord, already.

Hamlet

Indeed, upon my sword, indeed.

Ghost cries under the stage.

Ghost

Swear.

Hamlet

Ha, ha, boy, say'st thou so? Art thou there, truepenny? --

Come on, you hear this fellow in the cellarage.

Consent to swear.

Horatio

Propose the oath, my lord.

Hamlet

Never to speak of this that you have seen.

Swear by my sword.

Ghost

Swear.

[They swear.]

Hamlet

Hic et ubique? Then we'll shift our ground.

[He moves them to another spot.]

Come hither, gentlemen,

And lay your hands again upon my sword.

Never to speak of this that you have heard

Swear by my sword.

Ghost

Swear by his sword.

[They swear.]

Hamlet

Well said, old mole. Canst work i'th' earth so fast?

A worthy pioneer! -- Once more remove, good friends.

[They move once more.]

Horatio

Oh, day and night, but this is wondrous strange.

Hamlet

And therefore as a stranger give it welcome.
There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio,
Than are dreamt of in your philosophy. But come,
Here as before: never, so help you mercy,
How strange or odd some'er I bear myself
(As I perchance hereafter shall think meet
To put an antic disposition on),
That you at such times seeing me never shall,
With arms encumbered thus, or this headshake,
Or by pronouncing of some doubtful phrase
As, "Well, well, we know," or "We could an if we would,"
Or "If we list to speak," or "There be, an if they might,"
Or such ambiguous giving out, to note
That you know aught of me. This not to do,
So grace and mercy at your most need help you,
Swear.

Ghost

Swear.

[They swear.]

Hamlet

Rest, rest, perturbèd spirit. -- So, gentlemen,
With all my love I do commend me to you,
And what so poor a man as Hamlet is
May do t'express his love and friending to you,
God willing, shall not lack. Let us go in together,
And still your fingers on your lips, I pray.
The time is out of joint. Oh, cursèd spite,
That ever I was born to set it right!

[They wait for him to leave first.]

Nay, come, let's go together.

[2.1]

Enter old Polonius, with his man [Reynaldo] or two.

Polonius

Give him this money, and these notes, Reynaldo.

[He gives money and papers.]

Reynaldo

I will, my lord.

Polonius

You shall do marv'lous wisely, good Reynaldo,
Before you visit him, to make inquire
Of his behavior.

Reynaldo

My lord, I did intend it.

Polonius

Marry, well said, very well said. Look you, sir,
Inquire me first what Danskers are in Paris,
And how, and who, what means, and where they keep,
What company, at what expense; and finding
By this encompassment and drift of question
That they do know my son, come you more nearer
Than your particular demands will touch it;
Take you, as 'twere, some distant knowledge of him,
As thus: "I know his father, and his friends,
And in part him." Do you mark this, Reynaldo?

Reynaldo

Ay, very well, my lord.

Polonius

"And in part him. But," you may say, "not well,
But if't be he I mean, he's very wild,
Addicted so and so," and there put on him
What forgeries you please -- marry, none so rank
As may dishonor him, take heed of that,
But, sir, such wanton, wild, and usual slips
As are companions noted and most known
To youth and liberty.

Reynaldo

As gaming, my lord?

Polonius

Ay, or drinking, fencing, swearing,
Quarreling, drabbing -- you may go so far.

Reynaldo

My lord, that would dishonor him.

Polonius

Faith, no, as you may season it in the charge.
You must not put another scandal on him
That he is open to incontinency;
That's not my meaning. But breathe his faults so quaintly
That they may seem the taints of liberty,
The flash and outbreak of a fiery mind,
A savageness in unreclaimèd blood,
Of general assault.

Reynaldo

But, my good lord --

Polonius

Wherefore should you do this?

Reynaldo

Ay, my lord, I would know that.

Polonius

Marry sir, here's my drift,
And I believe it is a fetch of warrant.
You laying these slight sullies on my son
As 'twere a thing a little soiled i'th' working,
Mark you, your party in converse, him you would sound,
Having ever seen in the prenominate crimes
The youth you breathe of guilty, be assured
He closes with you in this consequence:
"Good sir" (or so), or "friend," or "gentleman,"
According to the phrase and the addition
Of man and country.

Reynaldo

Very good, my lord.

Polonius

And then, sir, does he this, he does -- what was I about to say?
By the mass, I was about to say something.
Where did I leave?

Reynaldo

At "closes in the consequence."
At "friend," or so, and "gentleman."

Polonius

At "closes in the consequence." Ay, marry,
He closes with you thus: "I know the gentleman,
I saw him yesterday" -- or t'other day,
Or then, or then -- "with such and such, and as you say,
There was 'a gaming, there o'ertook in's rouse,
There falling out at tennis," or perchance
"I saw him enter such a house of sale,"
Videlicet, a brothel, or so forth. See you now,
Your bait of falsehood takes this carp of truth,
And thus do we of wisdom and of reach,
With windlasses and with assays of bias,
By indirections find directions out;
So by my former lecture and advice
Shall you my son. You have me, have you not?

Reynaldo

My lord, I have.

Polonius

God b'wi' you; fare you well.

Reynaldo

Good my lord.

Polonius

Observe his inclination in yourself.

Reynaldo

I shall, my lord.

Polonius

And let him ply his music.

Reynaldo

Well, my lord.

Exit Reynaldo. Enter Ophelia.

Polonius

Farewell. -- How now, Ophelia, what's the matter?

Ophelia

Alas, my lord, I have been so affrighted!

Polonius

With what, i'th' name of God?

Ophelia

My lord, as I was sewing in my chamber,
Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced,
No hat upon his head, his stockings fouled,
Ungartered, and down-gyvèd to his ankle,
Pale as his shirt, his knees knocking each other,
And with a look so piteous in purport
As if he had been loosèd out of hell
To speak of horrors, he comes before me.

Polonius

Mad for thy love?

Ophelia

My lord, I do not know,
But truly I do fear it.

Polonius

What said he?

Ophelia

He took me by the wrist, and held me hard.
Then goes he to the length of all his arm,
And with his other hand thus o'er his brow
He falls to such perusal of my face
As he would draw it. Long stayed he so.
At last, a little shaking of mine arm,
And thrice his head thus waving up and down,
He raised a sigh so piteous and profound
That it did seem to shatter all his bulk
And end his being. That done, he lets me go,
And with his head over his shoulder turned
He seemed to find his way without his eyes,
For out o' doors he went without their help,
And to the last bended their light on me.

Polonius

Come, go with me. I will go seek the King.
This is the very ecstasy of love,
Whose violent property fordoes itself
And leads the will to desperate undertakings

As oft as any passion under heaven
That does afflict our natures. I am sorry.
What, have you given him any hard words of late?

Ophelia

No, my good lord, but as you did command
I did repel his letters, and denied
His access to me.

Polonius

That hath made him mad.
I am sorry that with better heed and judgment
I had not quoted him. I feared he did but trifle
And meant to wrack thee; but beshrew my jealousy!
By heaven, it is as proper to our age
To cast beyond ourselves in our opinions
As it is common for the younger sort
To lack discretion. Come, go we to the King.
This must be known, which, being kept close, might move
More grief to hide than hate to utter love.
Come.

[2.2]

Flourish. Enter King, Queen, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern [with others].

King

Welcome, dear Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.
Moreover that we much did long to see you,
The need we have to use you did provoke
Our hasty sending. Something have you heard
Of Hamlet's transformation -- so I call it,
Since nor th'exterior nor the inward man
Resembles that it was. What it should be,
More than his father's death, that thus hath put him
So much from th'understanding of himself,
I cannot dream of. I entreat you both
That, being of so young days brought up with him,
And sith so neighbored to his youth and humor,
That you vouchsafe your rest here in our court
Some little time, so by your companies
To draw him on to pleasures, and to gather
So much as from occasion you may glean,
Whether aught to us unknown afflicts him thus
That, opened, lies within our remedy.

Queen

Good gentlemen, he hath much talked of you,
And sure I am two men there is not living
To whom he more adheres. If it will please you
To show us so much gentry and good will
As to expend your time with us awhile
For the supply and profit of our hope,
Your visitation shall receive such thanks
As fits a king's remembrance.

Rosencrantz

Both your majesties
Might, by the sovereign power you have of us,
Put your dread pleasures more into command
Than to entreaty.

Guildenstern

But we both obey,
And here give up ourselves in the full bent
To lay our service freely at your feet
To be commanded.

King

Thanks, Rosencrantz, and gentle Guildenstern.

Queen

Thanks, Guildenstern, and gentle Rosencrantz.
And I beseech you instantly to visit
My too-much-changed son. -- Go, some of you,
And bring these gentlemen where Hamlet is.

Guildenstern

Heavens make our presence and our practices
Pleasant and helpful to him!

Queen

Ay, amen.

Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern [and other Courtiers]. Enter Polonius.

Polonius

Th'ambassadors from Norway, my good lord,
Are joyfully returned.

King

Thou still hast been the father of good news.

Polonius

Have I, my lord? I assure my good liege
I hold my duty as I hold my soul,
Both to my God and to my gracious king;
And I do think -- or else this brain of mine
Hunts not the trail of policy so sure
As it hath used to do -- that I have found
The very cause of Hamlet's lunacy.

King

Oh, speak of that! That do I long to hear.

Polonius

Give first admittance to th'ambassadors.
My news shall be the fruit to that great feast.

King

Thyself do grace to them, and bring them in.

[Polonius goes to bring in the ambassadors.]

He tells me, my sweet Queen, that he hath found
The head and source of all your son's distemper.

Queen

I doubt it is no other but the main:
His father's death, and our o'erhasty marriage.

Enter Polonius, Voltemand, and Cornelius.

King

Well, we shall sift him. -- Welcome, my good friends.
Say, Voltemand, what from our brother Norway?

Voltemand

Most fair return of greetings and desires.
Upon our first, he sent out to suppress
His nephew's levies, which to him appeared
To be a preparation 'gainst the Polack,
But, better looked into, he truly found
It was against your highness; whereat grieved
That so his sickness, age, and impotence
Was falsely borne in hand, sends out arrests
On Fortinbras, which he in brief obeys,
Receives rebuke from Norway, and, in fine,
Makes vow before his uncle never more
To give th'assay of arms against your majesty.

Whereon old Norway, overcome with joy,
Gives him three thousand crowns in annual fee
And his commission to employ those soldiers
So levied (as before) against the Polack,
With an entreaty herein further shown

[Giving a letter to the King]

That it might please you to give quiet pass
Through your dominions for his enterprise
On such regards of safety and allowance
As therein are set down.

King

It likes us well,
And at our more considered time we'll read,
Answer, and think upon this business.
Meantime, we thank you for your well-took labor.
Go to your rest. At night we'll feast together.
Most welcome home!

Exeunt Ambassadors.

Polonius

This business is well ended.
My liege and madam, to expostulate
What majesty should be, what duty is,
Why day is day, night night, and time is time,
Were nothing but to waste night, day, and time.
Therefore, since brevity is the soul of wit,
And tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes,
I will be brief. Your noble son is mad.
Mad call I it, for to define true madness,
What is't but to be nothing else but mad?
But let that go.

Queen

More matter with less art.

Polonius

Madam, I swear I use no art at all.
That he is mad, 'tis true. 'Tis true 'tis pity,
And pity 'tis 'tis true -- a foolish figure,
But farewell it, for I will use no art.
Mad let us grant him, then. And now remains
That we find out the cause of this effect,
Or rather say the cause of this defect,
For this effect defective comes by cause.

Thus it remains, and the remainder thus.
Perpend.
I have a daughter -- have whilst she is mine --
Who in her duty and obedience, mark,
Hath given me this. Now gather and surmise.

[He reads from] the letter.

"To the celestial and my soul's idol, the most beautified Ophelia." That's an ill phrase, a vile phrase;
"beautified" is a vile phrase. But you shall hear. Thus:
"In her excellent white bosom, these..." etc.

Queen

Came this from Hamlet to her?

Polonius

Good madam, stay awhile, I will be faithful.

[He reads the] letter.

"Doubt thou the stars are fire,
Doubt that the sun doth move,
Doubt truth to be a liar,
But never doubt I love."
"O dear Ophelia, I am ill at these numbers. I have not art to reckon my groans. But that I love thee best, oh, most best, believe it. Adieu. Thine evermore, most dear lady, whilst this machine is to him, Hamlet."
This in obedience hath my daughter shown me,
And, more above, hath his solicitings,
As they fell out, by time, by means, and place,
All given to mine ear.

King

But how hath she received his love?

Polonius

What do you think of me?

King

As of a man faithful and honorable.

Polonius

I would fain prove so. But what might you think,
When I had seen this hot love on the wing --
As I perceived it (I must tell you that)
Before my daughter told me -- what might you,

Or my dear majesty your queen here, think
If I had played the desk or table-book,
Or given my heart a winking, mute and dumb,
Or looked upon this love with idle sight,
What might you think? No, I went round to work,
And my young mistress thus I did bespeak:
"Lord Hamlet is a prince out of thy star.
This must not be." And then I precepts gave her
That she should lock herself from his resort,
Admit no messengers, receive no tokens.
Which done, she took the fruits of my advice,
And he, repulsèd, a short tale to make,
Fell into a sadness, then into a fast,
Thence to a watch, thence into a weakness,
Thence to a lightness, and by this declension
Into the madness wherein now he raves,
And all we wail for.

King

[To Queen]

Do you think 'tis this?

Queen

It may be, very like.

Polonius

Hath there been such a time -- I'd fain know that --
That I have positively said "'Tis so"
When it proved otherwise?

King

Not that I know.

Polonius

Take this from this, if this be otherwise.
If circumstances lead me, I will find
Where truth is hid, though it were hid indeed
Within the center.

King

How may we try it further?

Polonius

You know sometimes he walks four hours together

Here in the lobby.

Queen

So he does indeed.

Polonius

At such a time, I'll loose my daughter to him.
Be you and I behind an arras then;
Mark the encounter. If he love her not,
And be not from his reason fall'n thereon,
Let me be no assistant for a state
But keep a farm and carters.

King

We will try it.

Enter Hamlet reading on a book.

Queen

But look where sadly the poor wretch comes reading.

Polonius

Away, I do beseech you both, away.
I'll board him presently. Oh, give me leave. --

Exit King and Queen.

How does my good Lord Hamlet?

Hamlet

Well, God-a-mercy.

Polonius

Do you know me, my lord?

Hamlet

Excellent well. You are a fishmonger.

Polonius

Not I, my lord.

Hamlet

Then I would you were so honest a man.

Polonius

Honest, my lord?

Hamlet

Ay, sir, to be honest, as this world goes,
is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.

Polonius

That's very true, my lord.

Hamlet

For if the sun breed maggots in a dead dog, being a good kissing carrion -- Have you a daughter?

Polonius

I have, my lord.

Hamlet

Let her not walk i'th' sun. Conception is a blessing, but not as your daughter may conceive, friend, look to't.

Polonius

[Aside]

How say you by that? Still harping on my daughter.
Yet he knew me not at first. He said I was a fishmonger.
He is far gone, far gone. And truly, in my youth I suffered much extremity for love, very near this. I'll speak to him again.
-- What do you read, my lord?

Hamlet

Words, words, words.

Polonius

What is the matter, my lord?

Hamlet

Between who?

Polonius

I mean the matter that you read, my lord.

Hamlet

Slanders sir; for the satirical rogue says here that old men have gray beards, that their faces are wrinkled, their eyes purging thick amber and plumtree gum, and that they have a plentiful lack of wit, together with most weak hams -- all which, sir, though I most powerfully and potently believe, yet I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down; for you yourself, sir, shall grow old as I am, if, like a crab, you could go backward.

Polonius

[Aside]

Though this be madness, yet there is method in't. --
Will you walk out of the air, my lord?

Hamlet

Into my grave.

Polonius

[Aside]

Indeed, that's out of the air. How pregnant sometimes his replies are! A happiness that often madness hits on, which reason and sanity could not so prosperously be delivered of. I will leave him, and suddenly contrive the means of meeting between him and my daughter.
-- My honorable lord, I will most humbly take my leave of you.

Hamlet

You cannot, sir, take from me anything that I will more willingly part withal -- except my life, except my life, except my life.

Enter Guildenstern and Rosencrantz.

Polonius

Fare you well, my lord.

Hamlet

These tedious old fools!

Polonius

[To Rosencrantz and Guildenstern]

You go to seek the Lord Hamlet? There he is.

Rosencrantz

[To Polonius]

God save you, sir.

[Exit Polonius.]

Guildenstern

My honored lord!

Rosencrantz

My most dear lord!

Hamlet

My excellent good friends! How dost thou, Guildenstern?
Ah, Rosencrantz! Good lads, how do ye both?

Rosencrantz

As the indifferent children of the earth.

Guildenstern

Happy in that we are not over-happy.
On Fortune's cap we are not the very button.

Hamlet

Nor the soles of her shoe?

Rosencrantz

Neither, my lord.

Hamlet

Then you live about her waist, or in the middle of her favors.

Guildenstern

Faith, her privates we.

Hamlet

In the secret parts of Fortune?
Oh, most true, she is a strumpet.
What news?

Rosencrantz

None, my lord, but that the world's grown honest.

Hamlet

Then is doomsday near. But your news is not true.
Let me question more in particular. What have you, my good friends, deserved at the hands of Fortune that she sends you to prison hither?

Guildenstern

Prison, my lord?

Hamlet

Denmark's a prison.

Rosencrantz

Then is the world one.

Hamlet

A goodly one, in which there are many confines, wards, and dungeons, Denmark being one o'th' worst.

Rosencrantz

We think not so, my lord.

Hamlet

Why, then 'tis none to you, for there is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so.
To me it is a prison.

Rosencrantz

Why, then your ambition makes it one. 'Tis too narrow for your mind.

Hamlet

Oh, God, I could be bounded in a nutshell and count myself a king of infinite space, were it not that I have bad dreams.

Guildenstern

Which dreams indeed are ambition, for the very substance of the ambitious is merely the shadow of a dream.

Hamlet

A dream itself is but a shadow.

Rosencrantz

Truly, and I hold ambition of so airy and light a quality that it is but a shadow's shadow.

Hamlet

Then are our beggars bodies, and our monarchs and outstretched heroes the beggars' shadows.
Shall we to th' court? For, by my fay, I cannot reason.

Both

We'll wait upon you.

Hamlet

No such matter. I will not sort you with the rest of my servants, for, to speak to you like an honest man, I am most dreadfully attended. But, in the beaten way of friendship, what make you at Elsinore?

Rosencrantz

To visit you, my lord, no other occasion.

Hamlet

Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks, but I thank you; and sure, dear friends, my thanks are too dear a halfpenny. Were you not sent for? Is it your own inclining? Is it a free visitation? Come, come, deal justly with me. Come, come; nay, speak.

Guildestern

What should we say, my lord?

Hamlet

Why, anything -- but to th' purpose. You were sent for, and there is a kind of confession in your looks which your modesties have not craft enough to color. I know the good King and Queen have sent for you.

Rosencrantz

To what end, my lord?

Hamlet

That you must teach me. But let me conjure you, by the rights of our fellowship, by the consonancy of our youth, by the obligation of our ever-preserved love, and by what more dear a better proposer could charge you withal, be even and direct with me whether you were sent for or no.

Rosencrantz

What say you?

[Aside to Guildestern]

Hamlet

Nay, then, I have an eye of you. --
If you love me, hold not off.

[Aside]

Guildenstern

My lord, we were sent for.

Hamlet

I will tell you why; so shall my anticipation prevent your discovery, and your secrecy to the King and Queen molt no feather. I have of late, but wherefore I know not, lost all my mirth, forgone all custom of exercise; and indeed it goes so heavily with my disposition that this goodly frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory. This most excellent canopy the air, look you, this brave o'erhanging firmament, this majestical roof fretted with golden fire, why, it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapors. What a piece of work is a man! How noble in reason, how infinite in faculties, in form and moving how express and admirable! In action, how like an angel! In apprehension, how like a god; the beauty of the world; the paragon of animals. And yet to me what is this quintessence of dust? Man delights not me, no, nor woman neither, though by your smiling you seem to say so.

Rosencrantz

My lord, there was no such stuff in my thoughts.

Hamlet

Why did you laugh, then, when I said man delights not me?

Rosencrantz

To think, my lord, if you delight not in man, what lenten entertainment the players shall receive from you. We coted them on the way, and hither are they coming to offer you service.

Hamlet

He that plays the King shall be welcome; his majesty shall have tribute of me. The Adventurous Knight shall use his foil and target, the Lover shall not sigh gratis, the Humorous Man shall end his part in peace, the Clown shall make those laugh whose lungs are tickled o'th' sear, and the Lady shall say her mind freely, or the blank verse shall halt for't. What players are they?

Rosencrantz

Even those you were wont to take such delight in, the tragedians of the city.

Hamlet

How chances it they travel? Their residence both in reputation and profit was better both ways.

Rosencrantz

I think their inhibition comes by the means of the late innovation.

Hamlet

Do they hold the same estimation they did when I was in the city? Are they so followed?

Rosencrantz

No, indeed, they are not.

Hamlet

How comes it? Do they grow rusty?

Rosencrantz

Nay, their endeavor keeps in the wonted pace. But there is, sir, an aerie of children, little eyases, that cry out on the top of question, and are most tyrannically clapped for't. These are now the fashion, and so berattle the common stages -- so they call them -- that many wearing rapiers are afraid of goose quills and dare scarce come thither.

Hamlet

What, are they children? Who maintains 'em? How are they escoted? Will they pursue the quality no longer than they can sing? Will they not say afterwards, if they should grow themselves to common players -- as it is most like if their means are not better -- their writers do them wrong to make them exclaim against their own succession?

Rosencrantz

Faith, there has been much to-do on both sides, and the nation holds it no sin to tarre them to controversy.

There was for a while no money bid for argument unless the poet and the player went to cuffs in the question.

Hamlet

Is't possible?

Guildestern

Oh, there has been much throwing about of brains.

Hamlet

Do the boys carry it away?

Rosencrantz

Ay, that they do, my lord, Hercules and his load too.

Hamlet

It is not very strange, for my uncle is King of Denmark, and those that would make mouths at him while my father lived give twenty, forty, fifty, an hundred ducats apiece for his picture in little. 'Sblood, there is something in this more than natural, if philosophy could find it out.

Flourish for the players.

Guildestern

There are the players.

Hamlet

Gentlemen, you are welcome to Elsinore. Your hands, come. Th'appurtenance of welcome is fashion and ceremony. Let me comply with you in this garb, lest my extent to the players, which, I tell you, must show fairly outward, should more appear like entertainment than yours. You are welcome. But my uncle-father and aunt-mother are deceived.

Guildestern

In what, my dear lord?

Hamlet

I am but mad north-north-west; when the wind is southerly,
I know a hawk from a handsaw.

Enter Polonius.

Polonius

Well be with you, gentlemen.

Hamlet

Hark you, Guildenstern, and you too, at each ear a hearer:
that great baby you see there is not yet out of his swaddling clouts.

Rosencrantz

Haply he is the second time come to them, for they say an old man is twice a child.

Hamlet

I will prophesy he comes to tell me of the players. Mark it. -- You say right, sir, a Monday morning, 'twas then indeed.

Polonius

My lord, I have news to tell you.

Hamlet

My lord, I have news to tell you. When Roscius was an actor in Rome --

Polonius

The actors are come hither, my lord.

Hamlet

Buzz, buzz.

Polonius

Upon my honor --

Hamlet

Then came each actor on his ass.

Polonius

The best actors in the world, either for tragedy, comedy, history, pastoral, pastoral-comical, historical-pastoral, tragical-historical, tragical-comical-historical-pastoral, scene individable, or poem unlimited. Seneca cannot be too heavy nor Plautus too light. For the law of writ and the liberty, these are the only men.

Hamlet

O Jephthah, judge of Israel, what a treasure hadst thou?

Polonius

What a treasure had he, my lord?

Hamlet

Why,

One fair daughter and no more,
The which he lovèd passing well.

Polonius

Still on my daughter.

[Aside]

Hamlet

Am I not i'th' right, old Jephthah?

Polonius

If you call me Jephthah, my lord, I have a daughter that I love passing well.

Hamlet

Nay, that follows not.

Polonius

What follows then, my lord?

Hamlet

Why,

As by lot,

God wot,

and then you know,

It came to pass,

As most like it was.

The first row of the pious chanson will show you more,
for look where my abridgment comes.

Enter four or five Players.

Hamlet

You are welcome, masters, welcome all. -- I am glad to see thee well. Welcome, good friends. -- Oh, my old friend! Thy face is valanced since I saw thee last.
Com'st thou to beard me in Denmark? -- What, my young lady and mistress! By'r Lady, your ladyship is nearer heaven than when I saw you last, by the altitude of a chopine. Pray God your voice, like a piece of uncurrent gold, be not cracked within the ring. -- Masters, you are all welcome. We'll e'en to't, like French falconers: fly at anything we see. We'll have a speech straight. Come, give us a taste of your quality. Come, a passionate speech.

First Player

What speech, my good lord?

Hamlet

I heard thee speak me a speech once, but it was never acted, or, if it was, not above once; for the play, I remember, pleased not the million: 'twas caviare to the general. But it was, as I received it, and others whose judgments in such matters cried in the top of mine, an excellent play, well digested in the scenes, set down with as much modesty as cunning. I remember one said there were no sallets in the lines to make the matter savory, nor no matter in the phrase that might indict the author of affectation, but called it an honest method, as wholesome as sweet, and by very much more handsome than fine. One speech in't I chiefly loved: 'twas Aeneas' tale to Dido, and thereabout of it especially where he speaks of Priam's slaughter. If it live in your memory, begin at this line -- let me see, let me see --

The rugged Pyrrhus, like th'Hyrcanian beast --
'Tis not so, it begins with Pyrrhus.

The rugged Pyrrhus, he whose sable arms,
Black as his purpose, did the night resemble
When he lay couchèd in the ominous horse,
Hath now this dread and black complexion smeared
With heraldry more dismal. Head to foot
Now is he total gules, horridly tricked
With blood of fathers, mothers, daughters, sons,
Baked and empasted with the parching streets
That lend a tyrannous and damnèd light
To their vile murders. Roasted in wrath and fire,
And thus o'ersizèd with coagulate gore,
With eyes like carbuncles, the hellish Phyrrhus
Old grandsire Priam seeks.

So proceed you.

Polonius

'Fore God, my Lord, well spoken, with good accent and good discretion.

First Player

Anon he finds him,
Striking too short at Greeks. His antique sword,
Rebellious to his arm, lies where it falls,
Repugnant to command. Unequal matched,
Pyrrhus at Priam drives, in rage strikes wide,
But with the whiff and wind of his fell sword
Th'unnervèd father falls. Then senseless Ilium,
Seeming to feel this blow, with flaming top
Stoops to his base, and with a hideous crash
Takes prisoner Pyrrhus' ear; for lo! his sword,
Which was declining on the milky head
Of reverend Priam, seemed i'th' air to stick.
So as a painted tyrant Pyrrhus stood,
And, like a neutral to his will and matter,
Did nothing.
But as we often see against some storm
A silence in the heavens, the rack stand still,
The bold winds speechless, and the orb below
As hush as death, anon the dreadful thunder
Doth rend the region, so, after Pyrrhus' pause,
A rousèd vengeance sets him new a-work,
And never did the Cyclops' hammers fall
On Mars his armor forged for proof eterne
With less remorse than Pyrrhus' bleeding sword
Now falls on Priam.
Out, out, thou strumpet Fortune! All you gods
In general synod take away her power,
Break all the spokes and fellies from her wheel,
And bowl the round nave down the hill of heaven
As low as to the fiends!

Polonius

This is too long.

Hamlet

It shall to the barber's with your beard. -- Prithee, say on. He's for a jig, or a tale of bawdry, or he sleeps. Say on. Come to Hecuba.

First Player

But who, ah, woe, had seen the moblèd queen--.

Hamlet

The moblèd queen!

Polonius

That's good. "Mobleèd queen" is good.

First Player

Run barefoot up and down, threat'ning the flames
With bisson rheum, a clout upon that head
Where late the diadem stood, and, for a robe,
About her lank and all-o'erteemèd loins
A blanket in th'alarm of fear caught up --
Who this had seen, with tongue in venom steeped
'Gainst Fortune's state would treason have pronounced;
But if the gods themselves did see her then,
When she saw Pyrrhus make malicious sport
In mincing with his sword her husband's limbs,
The instant burst of clamor that she made,
Unless things mortal move them not at all,
Would have made milch the burning eyes of heaven
And passion in the gods.

Polonius

Look where he has not turned his color, and has tears in's eyes. -- Prithee, no more.

Hamlet

'Tis well. I'll have thee speak out the rest of this soon.

[To Polonius]

Good my lord, will you see the players well bestowed?
Do ye hear, let them be well used, for they are the abstracts and brief chronicles of the time. After your death you were better have a bad epitaph than their ill report while you live.

Polonius

My lord, I will use them according to their desert.

Hamlet

God's bodykins, man, much better. Use every man after his desert and who shall scape whipping?
Use them after your own honor and dignity; the less they deserve, the more merit is in your bounty.
Take them in.

Polonius

Come, sirs.

Exit Polonius.

Hamlet

Follow him, friends. We'll hear a play tomorrow.

[Aside to the First Player]

Dost thou hear me, old friend, can you play
"The Murder of Gonzago"?

[First] Player

Ay, my lord.

Hamlet

We'll ha't tomorrow night. You could for a need study a speech of some dozen or sixteen lines, which I would set down and insert in't, could you not?

[First] Player

Ay, my lord.

Hamlet

Very well. Follow that lord, and look you mock him not.

Exeunt Players.

My good friends, I'll leave you till night.
You are welcome to Elsinore.

Rosencrantz

Good my lord.

Hamlet

Ay, so, God b'wi' you.

Exeunt [Rosencrantz and Guildenstern].

Now I am alone.
Oh, what a rogue and peasant slave am I!
Is it not monstrous that this player here,
But in a fiction, in a dream of passion,
Could force his soul so to his whole conceit
That from her working all his visage wanned,

Tears in his eyes, distraction in's aspect,
A broken voice, and his whole function suiting
With forms to his conceit? And all for nothing!
For Hecuba!

What's Hecuba to him, or he to Hecuba,
That he should weep for her? What would he do
Had he the motive and the cue for passion
That I have? He would drown the stage with tears,
And cleave the general ear with horrid speech,
Make mad the guilty, and appal the free,
Confound the ignorant, and amaze indeed
The very faculties of eyes and ears. Yet I,
A dull and muddy-mettled rascal, peak
Like John-a-dreams, unpregnant of my cause,
And can say nothing; no, not for a king
Upon whose property and most dear life
A damned defeat was made. Am I a coward?
Who calls me villain? Breaks my pate across?
Plucks off my beard and blows it in my face?
Tweaks me by th' nose? Gives me the lie i'th' throat
As deep as to the lungs? Who does me this,
Ha? 'Swounds, I should take it; for it cannot be
But I am pigeon-livered, and lack gall
To make oppression bitter, or ere this
I should ha' fatted all the region kites
With this slave's offal. Bloody, bawdy villain!
Remorseless, treacherous, lecherous, kindless villain!
Oh, vengeance!

Why, what an ass am I! Ay, sure, this is most brave,
That I, the son of a dear father murdered,
Prompted to my revenge by heaven and hell,
Must like a whore unpack my heart with words,
And fall a-cursing like a very drab,
A scullion. Fie upon't, foh! About, my brain!
Hum, I have heard
That guilty creatures sitting at a play
Have by the very cunning of the scene
Been struck so to the soul that presently
They have proclaimed their malefactions;
For murder, though it have no tongue, will speak
With most miraculous organ. I'll have these players
Play something like the murder of my father
Before mine uncle. I'll observe his looks;
I'll tent him to the quick. If he but blench

I know my course. The spirit that I have seen
May be the devil, and the devil hath power
T'assume a pleasing shape; yea, and perhaps,
Out of my weakness and my melancholy,
As he is very potent with such spirits,
Abuses me to damn me. I'll have grounds
More relative than this. The play's the thing
Wherein I'll catch the conscience of the King.

[3.1]

Enter King, Queen, Polonius, Ophelia, Rosencrantz, Guildenstern, and Lords.

King

And can you by no drift of conference
Get from him why he puts on this confusion,
Grating so harshly all his days of quiet
With turbulent and dangerous lunacy?

Rosencrantz

He does confess he feels himself distracted,
But from what cause, he will by no means speak.

Guildenstern

Nor do we find him forward to be sounded,
But with a crafty madness keeps aloof
When we would bring him on to some confession
Of his true state.

Queen

Did he receive you well?

Rosencrantz

Most like a gentleman.

Guildenstern

But with much forcing of his disposition.

Rosencrantz

Niggard of question, but of our demands
Most free in his reply.

Queen

Did you assay him to any pastime?

Rosencrantz

Madam, it so fell out that certain players
We o'erraught on the way. Of these we told him,
And there did seem in him a kind of joy
To hear of it. They are about the court,
And, as I think, they have already order
This night to play before him.

Polonius

'Tis most true,
And he beseeched me to entreat your majesties
To hear and see the matter.

King

With all my heart,
and it doth much content me
To hear him so inclined. Good gentlemen,
Give him a further edge, and drive his purpose on
To these delights.

Rosencrantz

We shall, my lord.

Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern [and Lords].

King

Sweet Gertrude, leave us too,
For we have closely sent for Hamlet hither,
That he, as 'twere by accident, may here
Affront Ophelia.
Her father and myself, lawful espials,
Will so bestow ourselves that, seeing unseen,
We may of their encounter frankly judge,
And gather by him, as he is behaved,
If't be th'affliction of his love or no
That thus he suffers for.

Queen

I shall obey you.
And for your part, Ophelia, I do wish
That your good beauties be the happy cause
Of Hamlet's wildness. So shall I hope your virtues
Will bring him to his wonted way again,
To both your honors.

Ophelia

Madam, I wish it may.

[Exit Queen.]

Polonius

Ophelia, walk you here. -- Gracious, so please you,
We will bestow ourselves.

[To Ophelia, as he gives her a book]

Read on this book,
That show of such an exercise may color
Your loneliness. We are oft to blame in this,
'Tis too much proved, that with devotion's visage
And pious action we do sugar o'er
The devil himself.

King

[Aside]

Oh, 'tis too true!
How smart a lash that speech doth give my conscience!
The harlot's cheek, beautied with plast'ring art,
Is not more ugly to the thing that helps it
Than is my deed to my most painted word.
Oh, heavy burden!

Enter Hamlet.

Polonius

I hear him coming. Let's withdraw, my lord.

[The King and Polonius conceal themselves.]

Hamlet

To be, or not to be, that is the question,
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
And by opposing end them. To die, to sleep --
No more -- and by a sleep to say we end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to; 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To die, to sleep;
To sleep, perchance to dream. Ay, there's the rub,
For in that sleep of death what dreams may come
When we have shuffled off this mortal coil
Must give us pause. There's the respect
That makes calamity of so long life.
For who would bear the whips and scorns of time,
Th'oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely,
The pangs of disprized love, the law's delay,
The insolence of office, and the spurns

That patient merit of th'unworthy takes,
When he himself might his quietus make
With a bare bodkin? Who would fardels bear,
To grunt and sweat under a weary life,
But that the dread of something after death,
The undiscovered country from whose bourn
No traveler returns, puzzles the will,
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of.
Thus conscience doth make cowards of us all,
And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought,
And enterprises of great pith and moment
With this regard their currents turn awry
And lose the name of action. Soft you now,
The fair Ophelia! -- Nymph, in thy orisons
Be all my sins remembered.

Ophelia

Good my lord,
How does your honor for this many a day?

Hamlet

I humbly thank you, well, well, well.

Ophelia

My lord, I have remembrances of yours
That I have longèd long to redeliver.
I pray you now receive them.

Hamlet

No, not I. I never gave you aught.

Ophelia

My honored lord, you know right well you did,
And with them words of so sweet breath composed
As made the things more rich. Their perfume lost,
Take these again, for to the noble mind
Rich gifts wax poor when givers prove unkind,
There, my lord.

[She offers Hamlet the remembrances.]

Hamlet

Ha, ha! Are you honest?

Ophelia

My lord?

Hamlet

Are you fair?

Ophelia

What means your lordship?

Hamlet

That if you be honest and fair, your honesty should admit no discourse to your beauty.

Ophelia

Could beauty, my lord, have better commerce than with honesty?

Hamlet

Ay, truly, for the power of beauty will sooner transform honesty from what it is to a bawd than the force of honesty can translate beauty into his likeness. This was sometime a paradox, but now the time gives it proof. I did love you once.

Ophelia

Indeed, my lord, you made me believe so.

Hamlet

You should not have believed me, for virtue cannot so inoculate our old stock but we shall relish of it. I loved you not.

Ophelia

I was the more deceived.

Hamlet

Get thee to a nunnery. Why wouldst thou be a breeder of sinners? I am myself indifferent honest, but yet I could accuse me of such things that it were better my mother had not borne me: I am very proud, revengeful, ambitious, with more offenses at my beck than I have thoughts to put them in, imagination to give them shape, or time to act them in. What should such fellows as I do crawling between earth and heaven?

We are arrant knaves, all; believe none of us.
Go thy ways to a nunnery. Where's your father?

Ophelia

At home, my lord.

Hamlet

Let the doors be shut upon him, that he may play the fool nowhere but in's own house.
Farewell.

Ophelia

Oh, help him, you sweet heavens!

Hamlet

If thou dost marry, I'll give thee this plague for thy dowry: be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny. Get thee to a nunnery.
Go, farewell. Or if thou wilt needs marry, marry a fool, for wise men know well enough what monsters you make of them. To a nunnery go, and quickly too.
Farewell.

Ophelia

O heavenly powers, restore him!

Hamlet

I have heard of your paintings too, well enough.
God hath given you one face, and you make yourselves another. You jig, you amble, and you lisp, you nickname God's creatures, and make your wantonness your ignorance. Go to, I'll no more on't; it hath made me mad. I say we will have no more marriages. Those that are married already, all but one, shall live; the rest shall keep as they are. To a nunnery, go.

Exit.

Ophelia

Oh, what a noble mind is here o'erthrown!
The courtier's, soldier's, scholar's, eye, tongue, sword,
Th'expectancy and rose of the fair state,
The glass of fashion and the mold of form,
Th'observed of all observers, quite, quite down,
And I, of ladies most deject and wretched,

That sucked the honey of his musicked vows,
Now see that noble and most sovereign reason
Like sweet bells jangled out of tune and harsh,
That unmatched form and feature of blown youth
Blasted with ecstasy. Oh, woe is me
T'have seen what I have seen, see what I see!

Enter King and Polonius
[stepping forward from concealment].

King

Love? His affections do not that way tend,
Nor what he spake, though it lacked form a little,
Was not like madness. There's something in his soul
O'er which his melancholy sits on brood,
And I do doubt the hatch and the disclose
Will be some danger; which for to prevent,
I have in quick determination
Thus set it down: he shall with speed to England
For the demand of our neglected tribute.
Haply the seas, and countries different,
With variable objects, shall expel
This something-settled matter in his heart,
Whereon his brains still beating puts him thus
From fashion of himself. What think you on't?

Polonius

It shall do well. But yet do I believe
The origin and commencement of his grief
Sprung from neglected love. -- How now, Ophelia?
You need not tell us what Lord Hamlet said,
We heard it all. -- My lord, do as you please,
But if you hold it fit, after the play
Let his queen-mother all alone entreat him
To show his grief. Let her be round with him,
And I'll be placed (so please you) in the ear
Of all their conference. If she find him not,
To England send him, or confine him where Your wisdom best shall think.

King

It shall be so;
Madness in great ones must not unwatched go.

[3.2]

Enter Hamlet, and two or three of the Players.

Hamlet

Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly on the tongue; but if you mouth it, as many of our players do, I had as lief the town crier had spoke my lines. Nor do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus, but use all gently; for in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, whirlwind of your passion, you must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness. Oh, it offends me to the soul to hear a robustious periwig-pated fellow tear a passion to tatters, to very rags, to split the ears of the groundlings, who for the most part are capable of nothing but inexplicable dumb-shows and noise. I would have such a fellow whipped for o'erdoing Termagant. It out-Herods Herod. Pray you avoid it.

Player

I warrant your honor.

Hamlet

Be not too tame, neither, but let your own discretion be your tutor. Suit the action to the word, the word to the action, with this special observance: that you o'erstep not the modesty of nature. For anything so overdone is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first and now, was and is to hold as 'twere the mirror up to nature, to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure. Now this overdone, or come tardy off, though it make the unskillful laugh, cannot but make the judicious grieve, the censure of the which one must in your allowance o'erweigh a whole theater of others. Oh, there be players that I have seen play, and heard others praise, and that highly, not to speak it profanely, that, neither having th'accent of Christians nor the gait of Christian, pagan, nor no man, have so strutted and bellowed that I have thought some of nature's journeymen had made men, and not made them well, they imitated humanity so abominably.

Player

I hope we have reformed that indifferently with us, sir.

Hamlet

Oh, reform it altogether. And let those that play your clowns speak no more than is set down for them; for there be of them that will themselves laugh, to set on some quantity of barren spectators to laugh too, though in the meantime some necessary question of the play be then to be considered. That's villainous, and shows a most pitiful ambition in the fool that uses it. Go make you ready.

Exeunt Players.

Enter Polonius, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern.

[To Polonius]

How now, my lord, will the King hear this piece of work?

Polonius

And the Queen too, and that presently.

Hamlet

Bid the players make haste.

Exit Polonius.

Will you two help to hasten them?

Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

We will, my lord.

Exeunt [Rosencrantz and Guildenstern].

Hamlet

What ho, Horatio!

Enter Horatio.

Horatio

Here, sweet lord, at your service.

Hamlet

Horatio, thou art e'en as just a man
As e'er my conversation coped withal.

Horatio

Oh, my dear lord --

Hamlet

Nay, do not think I flatter,
For what advancement may I hope from thee
That no revenue hast but thy good spirits
To feed and clothe thee? Why should the poor be flattered?
No, let the candied tongue lick absurd pomp

And crook the pregnant hinges of the knee
Where thrift may follow fawning. Dost thou hear?
Since my dear soul was mistress of her choice
And could of men distinguish, her election
Hath sealed thee for herself, for thou hast been
As one in suff'ring all that suffers nothing,
A man that Fortune's buffets and rewards
Hast ta'en with equal thanks; and blest are those Whose blood and judgment are so well commingled
That they are not a pipe for Fortune's finger
To sound what stop she please. Give me that man
That is not passion's slave, and I will wear him
In my heart's core, ay, in my heart of heart,
As I do thee. -- Something too much of this. --
There is a play tonight before the King.
One scene of it comes near the circumstance
Which I have told thee of my father's death.
I prithee, when thou see'st that act afoot,
Even with the very comment of thy soul
Observe mine uncle. If his occulted guilt
Do not itself unkennel in one speech,
It is a damnèd ghost that we have seen,
And my imaginations are as foul
As Vulcan's stithy. Give him heedful note,
For I mine eyes will rivet to his face,
And after we will both our judgments join
In censure of his seeming.

Horatio

Well, my lord,
If he steal aught the whilst this play is playing
And scape detecting, I will pay the theft.

Enter King, Queen, Polonius, Ophelia, Rosencrantz, Guildenstern, and other lord attendant with his Guard carrying torches.
Danish march. Sound a flourish

Hamlet

They are coming to the play. I must be idle.
Get you a place.

King

How fares our cousin Hamlet?

Hamlet

Excellent, i'faith, of the chameleon's dish; I eat the air, promise-crammed. You cannot feed capons so.

King

I have nothing with this answer, Hamlet.
These words are not mine.

Hamlet

No, nor mine now.

[To Polonius]

My lord, you played once i'th' university, you say?

Polonius

That did I, my lord, and was accounted a good actor.

Hamlet

And what did you enact?

Polonius

I did enact Julius Caesar. I was killed i'th' Capitol.
Brutus killed me.

Hamlet

It was a brute part of him to kill so capital a calf there. --
Be the players ready?

Rosencrantz

Ay, my lord, they stay upon your patience.

Queen

Come hither, my dear Hamlet, sit by me.

Hamlet

No, good mother, here's mettle more attractive.

Polonius

[To the King]

Oh ho! Do you mark that?

Hamlet

[To Ophelia, as he lies at her feet]

Lady, shall I lie in your lap?

Ophelia

No, my lord.

Hamlet

I mean, my head upon your lap.

Ophelia

Ay, my lord.

Hamlet

Do you think I meant country matters?

Ophelia

I think nothing, my lord.

Hamlet

That's a fair thought to lie between maids' legs.

Ophelia

What is, my lord?

Hamlet

Nothing.

Ophelia

You are merry, my lord.

Hamlet

Who, I?

Ophelia

Ay, my lord.

Hamlet

Oh, God, your only jig-maker. What should a man do but be merry? For look you how cheerfully my mother looks, and my father died within's two hours.

Ophelia

Nay, 'tis twice two months, my lord.

Hamlet

So long? Nay, then, let the devil wear black, for I'll have a suit of sables. Oh, heavens! Die two months ago, and not forgotten yet? Then there's hope a great man's memory may outlive his life half a year.

But, by'r Lady, he must build churches then, or else shall he suffer not thinking on, with the hobby-horse, whose epitaph is, "For oh, for oh, the hobby-horse is forgot."

Hautboys play. The dumb-show enters.

Enter [Players as] a King and Queen very lovingly; the Queen embracing him. She kneels and makes show of protestation unto him. He takes her up, and declines his head upon her neck. Lays him down upon a bank of flowers. She, seeing him asleep, leaves him. Anon comes in a fellow, takes off his crown, kisses it, pours poison in the King's ears, and exits. The Queen returns, finds the King dead, and makes passionate action. The Poisoner, with some two or three mutes, comes in again, seeming to lament with her. The dead body is carried away. The Poisoner woos the Queen with gifts. She seems loath and unwilling awhile, but in the end accepts his love. Exeunt [Players].

Ophelia

What means this, my lord?

Hamlet

Marry, this is miching mallecho. It means mischief.

Ophelia

Belike this show imports the argument of the play.

Enter [a Player as] Prologue.

Hamlet

We shall know by this fellow.
The players cannot keep counsel; they'll tell all.

Ophelia

Will he tell us what this show meant?

Hamlet

Ay, or any show that you will show him. Be not you ashamed to show, he'll not shame to tell you what it means.

Ophelia

You are naught, you are naught. I'll mark the play.

Prologue

For us and for our tragedy,
Here stooping to your clemency,
We beg your hearing patiently.

[Exit.]

Hamlet

Is this a prologue, or the posy of a ring?

Ophelia

'Tis brief, my lord.

Hamlet

As woman's love.

Enter [two Players as] King and his Queen.

King

Full thirty times hath Phoebus' cart gone round
Neptune's salt wash and Tellus' orbèd ground,
And thirty dozen moons with borrowed sheen
About the world have times twelve thirties been Since love our hearts and Hymen did our hands
Unite commutual in most sacred bands.

Queen

So many journeys may the sun and moon
Make us again count o'er ere love be done!
But woe is me, you are so sick of late,
So far from cheer and from your former state,
That I distrust you. Yet though I distrust,
Discomfort you, my lord, it nothing must.
For women's fear and love hold quantity:
In neither aught, or in extremity.
Now what my love is, proof hath made you know,
And as my love is sized, my fear is so.
Where love is great, the littlest doubts are fear;
Where little fears grow great, great love grows there.

King

Faith, I must leave thee, love, and shortly too;
My operant powers their functions leave to do.
And thou shalt live in this fair world behind,
Honored, beloved; and haply one as kind
For husband shalt thou --

Queen

Oh, confound the rest!
Such love must needs be treason in my breast.
In second husband let me be accurst!
None wed the second but who killed the first.

Hamlet

Wormwood, wormwood.

Queen

The instances that second marriage move
Are base respects of thrift, but none of love.
A second time I kill my husband dead
When second husband kisses me in bed.

King

I do believe you think what now you speak,
But what we do determine, oft we break.
Purpose is but the slave to memory,
Of violent birth, but poor validity,
Which now like fruit unripe sticks on the tree,
But fall unshaken when they mellow be.
Most necessary 'tis that we forget
To pay ourselves what to ourselves is debt.
What to ourselves in passion we propose,
The passion ending, doth the purpose lose.
The violence of either grief or joy
Their own enactures with themselves destroy.
Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament;
Grief joys, joy grieves, on slender accident.
This world is not for aye, nor 'tis not strange
That even our loves should with our fortunes change;
For 'tis a question left us yet to prove
Whether love lead fortune, or else fortune love.
The great man down, you mark his favorites flies;
The poor advanced makes friends of enemies;
And hitherto doth love on fortune tend,
For who not needs shall never lack a friend,
And who in want a hollow friend doth try
Directly seasons him his enemy.
But orderly to end where I begun,
Our wills and fates do so contrary run
That our devices still are overthrown;
Our thoughts are ours, their ends none of our own.
So, think thou wilt no second husband wed,
But die thy thoughts when thy first lord is dead.

Queen

Nor earth to me give food, nor heaven light,
Sport and repose lock from me day and night,
To desperation turn my trust and hope,
An anchor's cheer in prison be my scope!
Each opposite that blanks the face of joy

Meet what I would have well, and it destroy!
Both here and hence pursue me lasting strife,
If once a widow, ever I be wife!

Hamlet

If she should break it now!

King

'Tis deeply sworn.
Sweet, leave me here awhile.
My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile
The tedious day with sleep.

Queen

Sleep rock thy brain,
And never come mischance between us twain!

[The Player King] sleeps. Exit [Player Queen].

Hamlet

Madam, how like you this play?

Queen

The lady doth protest too much, methinks.

Hamlet

Oh, but she'll keep her word.

King

Have you heard the argument? Is there no offense in't?

Hamlet

No, no, they do but jest, poison in jest. No offense i'th' world.

King

What do you call the play?

Hamlet

The Mousetrap. Marry, how? Tropically. This play is the image of a murder done in Vienna. Gonzago is the Duke's name, his wife Baptista. You shall see anon.
'Tis a knavish piece of work, but what of that? Your majesty and we that have free souls, it touches us not.
Let the galled jade wince, our withers are unwrung.

Enter Lucianus.

This is one Lucianus, nephew to the King.

Ophelia

You are as good as a chorus, my lord.

Hamlet

I could interpret between you and your love
if I could see the puppets dallying.

Ophelia

You are keen, my lord, you are keen.

Hamlet

It would cost you a groaning to take off mine edge.

Ophelia

Still better and worse.

Hamlet

So you mis-take your husbands. -- Begin, murderer.
Pox, leave thy damnable faces and begin. Come,
the croaking raven doth bellow for revenge.

Lucianus

Thoughts black, hands apt, drugs fit, and time agreeing,
Confederate season, else no creature seeing,
Thou mixture rank, of midnight weeds collected,
With Hecate's ban thrice blasted, thrice infected,
Thy natural magic and dire property
On wholesome life usurp immediately.

Pours the poison in his ears. Exit.

Hamlet

He poisons him i'th' garden for his estate. His name's Gonzago. The story is extant, and written in very choice Italian. You shall see anon how the murderer gets the love of Gonzago's wife.

Ophelia

The King rises.

Hamlet

What, frightened with false fire?

Queen

How fares my lord?

Polonius

Give o'er the play.

King

Give me some light. Away!

The Courtiers

Lights, lights, lights!

Exeunt all but Hamlet and Horatio.

Hamlet

"Why, let the stricken deer go weep,
The heart ungallèd play,
For some must watch while some must sleep;
So runs the world away."
Would not this, sir, and a forest of feathers --
if the rest of my fortunes turn Turk with me --
with two provincial roses on my razed shoes, get me a fellowship in a cry of players, sir?

Horatio

Half a share.

Hamlet

A whole one, I.
For thou dost know, O Damon dear,
This realm dismantled was
Of Jove himself, and now reigns here
A very, very pajock.

Horatio

You might have rhymed.

Hamlet

O good Horatio, I'll take the Ghost's word for a thousand pound. Didst perceive?

Horatio

Very well, my lord.

Hamlet

Upon the talk of the poisoning?

Horatio

I did very well note him.

Enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.

Hamlet

Aha, come, some music! Come, the recorders.
For if the King like not the comedy,
Why, then belike he likes it not, perdie.
Come, some music.

Guildenstern

Good my lord, vouchsafe me a word with you.

Hamlet

Sir, a whole history.

Guildenstern

The King, sir --

Hamlet

Ay, sir, what of him?

Guildenstern

Is in his retirement marvelous distempered.

Hamlet

With drink, sir?

Guildenstern

No, my lord, rather with choler.

Hamlet

Your wisdom should show itself more richer to signify this to his doctor, for, for me to put him to his purgation would perhaps plunge him into far more choler.

Guildenstern

Good my lord, put your discourse into some frame, and start not so wildly from my affair.

Hamlet

I am tame sir. Pronounce.

Guildenstern

The Queen your mother, in most great affliction of spirit, hath sent me to you.

Hamlet

You are welcome.

Guildenstern

Nay, good my lord, this courtesy is not of the right breed. If it shall please you to make me a wholesome answer, I will do your mother's commandment. If not, your pardon and my return shall be the end of my business.

Hamlet

Sir, I cannot.

Guildenstern

What, my lord?

Hamlet

Make you a wholesome answer; my wit's diseased. But, sir, such answers as I can make, you shall command, or rather, as you say, my mother. Therefore no more, but to the matter. My mother, you say.

Rosencrantz

Then thus she says: your behavior hath struck her into amazement and admiration.

Hamlet

Oh, wonderful son, that can so 'stonish a mother! But is there no sequel at the heels of this mother's admiration? Impart.

Rosencrantz

She desires to speak with you in her closet ere you go to bed.

Hamlet

We shall obey, were she ten times our mother. Have you any further trade with us?

Rosencrantz

My lord, you once did love me.

Hamlet

So I do still, by these pickers and stealers.

Rosencrantz

Good my lord, what is your cause of distemper?
You do surely bar the door upon your own liberty
if you deny your griefs to your friend.

Hamlet

Sir, I lack advancement.

Rosencrantz

How can that be, when you have the voice of the King himself for your succession in Denmark?

Enter the Players, with recorders.

Hamlet

Ay, sir, but "while the grass grows" -- the proverb is something musty. -- Oh, the recorders. Let me see one.

[He takes a recorder.]

To withdraw with you, why do you go about to recover the wind of me, as if you would drive me into a toil?

Guildenstern

Oh, my lord, if my duty be too bold, my love is too unmannerly.

Hamlet

I do not well understand that. Will you play upon this pipe?

Guildenstern

My lord, I cannot.

Hamlet

I pray you.

Guildenstern

Believe me, I cannot.

Hamlet

I do beseech you.

Guildenstern

I know no touch of it, my lord.

Hamlet

It is as easy as lying. Govern these ventages with your fingers and thumb, give it breath with your mouth,

and it will discourse most eloquent music.
Look you, these are the stops.

Guildestern

But these cannot I command to any utt'rance of harmony. I have not the skill.

Hamlet

Why, look you now, how unworthy a thing you make of me! You would play upon me, you would seem to know my stops, you would pluck out the heart of my mystery, you would sound me from my lowest note to the top of my compass, and there is much music, excellent voice in this little organ, yet cannot you make it speak.
'Sblood, do you think that I am easier to be played on than a pipe? Call me what instrument you will, though you can fret me, you cannot play upon me.

Enter Polonius.
[To Polonius, as he enters]

God bless you, sir.

Polonius

My lord, the Queen would speak with you, and presently.

Hamlet

Do you see yonder cloud that's almost in shape of a camel?

Polonius

By th' mass, and 'tis like a camel indeed.

Hamlet

Methinks it is like a weasel.

Polonius

It is backed like a weasel.

Hamlet

Or like a whale.

Polonius

Very like a whale.

Hamlet

Then I will come to my mother by and by.

[Aside]

They fool me to the top of my bent.

[Aloud]

I will come by and by.

Polonius

I will say so.

Exit.

Hamlet

"By and by" is easily said. -- Leave me, friends.

Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

'Tis now the very witching time of night,
When churchyards yawn, and hell itself breathes out
Contagion to this world. Now could I drink hot blood,
And do such bitter business as the day
Would quake to look on. Soft, now to my mother.
O heart, lose not thy nature! Let not ever
The soul of Nero enter this firm bosom.
Let me be cruel, not unnatural;
I will speak daggers to her, but use none.
My tongue and soul in this be hypocrites:
How in my words some ever she be shent,
To give them seals never my soul consent!

[3.3]

Enter King, Rosencrantz, and Guildenstern.

King

I like him not, nor stands it safe with us
To let his madness range. Therefore prepare you.
I your commission will forthwith dispatch,
And he to England shall along with you.
The terms of our estate may not endure
Hazard so dangerous as doth hourly grow
Out of his lunacies.

Guildenstern

We will ourselves provide.
Most holy and religious fear it is
To keep those many many bodies safe
That live and feed upon your majesty.

Rosencrantz

The single and peculiar life is bound

With all the strength and armor of the mind
To keep itself from noyance, but much more
That spirit upon whose weal depends and rests
The lives of many. The cress of majesty
Dies not alone, but like a gulf doth draw
What's near it with it; or it is a massy wheel
Fixed on the summit of the highest mount,
To whose huge spokes ten thousand lesser things
Are mortised and adjoined, which, when it falls,
Each small annexment, petty consequence,
Attends the boist'rous ruin. Never alone
Did the king sigh, but with a general groan.

King

Arm you, I pray you, to this speedy voyage,
For we will fetters put upon this fear
Which now goes too free-footed.

Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

We will haste us.

Exeunt gentlemen [Rosencrantz and Guildenstern].

Enter Polonius.

Polonius

My lord, he's going to his mother's closet.
Behind the arras I'll convey myself
To hear the process. I'll warrant she'll tax him home.
And, as you said -- and wisely was it said --
'Tis meet that some more audience than a mother,
Since nature makes them partial, should o'erhear
The speech of vantage. Fare you well, my liege.
I'll call upon you ere you go to bed,
And tell you what I know.

King

Thanks, dear my lord.

Exit [Polonius].

Oh, my offense is rank! It smells to heaven.
It hath the primal eldest curse upon't,
A brother's murder. Pray can I not,
Though inclination be as sharp as will;
My stronger guilt defeats my strong intent,
And like a man to double business bound
I stand in pause where I shall first begin,
And both neglect. What if this cursèd hand

Were thicker than itself with brother's blood,
Is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens
To wash it white as snow? Whereto serves mercy
But to confront the visage of offense?
And what's in prayer but this twofold force,
To be forestallèd ere we come to fall,
Or pardoned being down? Then I'll look up.
My fault is past. But, oh, what form of prayer
Can serve my turn? "Forgive me my foul murder"?
That cannot be, since I am still possessed
Of those effects for which I did the murder:
My crown, mine own ambition, and my queen.
May one be pardoned and retain th'offense?
In the corrupted currents of this world,
Offense's gilded hand may shove by justice,
And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself
Buys out the law. But 'tis not so above:
There is no shuffling, there the action lies
In his true nature, and we ourselves compelled,
Even to the teeth and forehead of our faults,
To give in evidence. What then? What rests?
Try what repentance can. What can it not?
Yet what can it, when one cannot repent?
O wretched state, O bosom black as death,
O limèd soul, that, struggling to be free,
Art more engaged! Help, angels! Make assay.
Bow, stubborn knees, and heart with strings of steel,
Be soft as sinews of the newborn babe!
All may be well.

[He kneels.] Enter Hamlet.

Hamlet

Now might I do it pat, now he is a-praying,
And now I'll do't.

[He draws his sword.]

And so he goes to heaven,
And so am I revenged. That would be scanned:
A villain kills my father, and for that,
I, his sole son, do this same villain send
To heaven.
Why, this is hire and salary, not revenge.
He took my father grossly, full of bread,
With all his crimes broad blown, as flush as May,
And how his audit stands, who knows save heaven?
But in our circumstance and course of thought

'Tis heavy with him. And am I then revenged
To take him in the purging of his soul,
When he is fit and seasoned for his passage?
No.

[He sheathes his sword.]

Up, sword, and know thou a more horrid hent.
When he is drunk asleep, or in his rage,
Or in th'incestuous pleasure of his bed,
At gaming, swearing, or about some act
That has no relish of salvation in't,
Then trip him, that his heels may kick at heaven,
And that his soul may be as damned and black
As hell, whereto it goes. My mother stays.
This physic but prolongs thy sickly days.

Exit.

King

My words fly up, my thoughts remain below.
Words without thoughts never to heaven go.

[3.4]

Enter Queen [Gertrude] and Polonius.

Polonius

He will come straight. Look you lay home to him.
Tell him his pranks have been too broad to bear with,
And that your grace hath screened and stood between Much heat and him. I'll silence me e'en here.
Pray you, be round with him.

Hamlet

Within.

Mother, mother, mother!

Queen

I'll warrant you. Fear me not.
Withdraw; I hear him coming.

[Polonius conceals himself behind the arras.] Enter Hamlet.

Hamlet

Now mother, what's the matter?

Queen

Hamlet, thou hast thy father much offended.

Hamlet

Mother, you have my father much offended.

Queen

Come, come, you answer with an idle tongue.

Hamlet

Go, go, you question with a wicked tongue.

Queen

Why, how now, Hamlet?

Hamlet

What's the matter now?

Queen

Have you forgot me?

Hamlet

No, by the rood, not so.
You are the queen, your husband's brother's wife,
And -- would it were not so! -- you are my mother.

Queen

Nay, then, I'll set those to you that can speak.

Hamlet

Come, come, and sit you down. You shall not budge.
You go not till I set you up a glass
Where you may see the inmost part of you.

Queen

What wilt thou do? Thou wilt not murder me?
Help, help, ho!

Polonius

[Behind the arras]

What ho! Help, help, help!

Hamlet

How now, a rat? Dead for a ducat, dead!

[Hamlet thrusts through the arras with his sword.]

Polonius

[Behind the arras]

Oh, I am slain!

[Polonius falls onto the stage floor, dead].

Queen

Oh, me, what hast thou done?

Hamlet

Nay I know not. Is it the King?

Queen

Oh, what a rash and bloody deed is this!

Hamlet

A bloody deed -- almost as bad, good mother,
As kill a king, and marry with his brother.

Queen

As kill a king?

Hamlet

Ay, lady, it was my word.

[He parts the arras and discovers the dead Polonius.]

Thou wretched, rash, intruding fool, farewell!
I took thee for thy better. Take thy fortune.
Thou find'st to be too busy is some danger.

[To the Queen]

Leave wringing of your hands. Peace, sit you down,
And let me wring your heart, for so I shall
If it be made of penetrable stuff,
If damnèd custom have not brass'd it so
That it is proof and bulwark against sense.

Queen

What have I done, that thou dar'st wag thy tongue
In noise so rude against me?

Hamlet

Such an act
That blurs the grace and blush of modesty,
Calls virtue hypocrite, takes off the rose
From the fair forehead of an innocent love
And sets a blister there, makes marriage vows
As false as dicers' oaths -- oh, such a deed
As from the body of contraction plucks
The very soul, and sweet religion makes
A rhapsody of words. Heaven's face doth glow
O'er this solidity and compound mass

With tristful visage, as against the doom,
Is thought-sick at the act.

Queen

Ay me, what act,
That roars so loud and thunders
in the index?

Hamlet

[Showing her two likenesses, of Hamlet senior and Claudius]

Look here upon this picture, and on this,
The counterfeit presentment of two brothers.
See what a grace was seated on this brow:
Hyperion's curls, the front of Jove himself,
An eye like Mars to threaten or command,
A station like the herald Mercury
New lighted on a heaven-kissing hill,
A combination and a form indeed
Where every god did seem to set his seal
To give the world assurance of a man.
This was your husband. Look you now what follows:
Here is your husband, like a mildew'd ear,
Blasting his wholesome brother. Have you eyes?
Could you on this fair mountain leave to feed
And batten on this moor? Ha, have you eyes?
You cannot call it love, for at your age
The heyday in the blood is tame, it's humble,
And waits upon the judgment, and what judgment
Would stoop from this to this? Sense, sure, you have,
Else could you not have motion, but sure that sense
Is apoplex'd, for madness would not err,
Nor sense to ecstasy was ne'er so thrall'd
But it reserved some quantity of choice
To serve in such a difference. What devil was't
That thus hath cozened you at hoodman-blind?
Eyes without feeling, feeling without sight,
Ears without hands or eyes, smelling sans all,
Or but a sickly part of one true sense
Could not so mope. O shame, where is thy blush?
Rebellious hell,
If thou canst mutine in a matron's bones,
To flaming youth let virtue be as wax
And melt in her own fire. Proclaim no shame
When the compulsive ardor gives the charge,

Since frost itself as actively doth burn,
And reason panders will.

Queen

Oh, Hamlet speak no more!
Thou turn'st mine eyes into my very soul,
And there I see such black and grainèd spots
As will not leave their tinct.

Hamlet

Nay, but to live
In the rank sweat of an enseamèd bed
Stewed in corruption, honeying and making love
Over the nasty sty!

Queen

Oh, speak to me no more!
These words like daggers enter in my ears.
No more, sweet Hamlet.

Hamlet

A murderer and a villain,
A slave that is not twentieth part the tithe
Of your precedent lord, a vice of kings,
A cutpurse of the empire and the rule,
That from a shelf the precious diadem stole
And put it in his pocket--

Queen

No more!

Enter Ghost [in his nightgown].

Hamlet

A king of shreds and patches--

[Seeing the Ghost]

Save me and hover o'er me with your wings,
You heavenly guards! What would you, gracious figure?

Queen

Alas, he's mad!

Hamlet

Do you not come your tardy son to chide,
That, lapsed in time and passion, lets go by Th'important acting of your dread command?

Oh, say!

Ghost

Do not forget. This visitation
Is but to whet thy almost blunted purpose.
But look, amazement on thy mother sits.
Oh, step between her and her fighting soul!
Conceit in weakest bodies strongest works.
Speak to her, Hamlet.

Hamlet

How is it with you, lady?

Queen

Alas, how is't with you,
That you do bend your eye on vacancy,
And with th'incorporal air do hold discourse?
Forth at your eyes your spirits wildly peep,
And, as the sleeping soldiers in th'alarm,
Your bedded hair, like life in excrements,
Start up and stand on end. O gentle son,
Upon the heat and flame of thy distemper
Sprinkle cool patience. Whereon do you look?

Hamlet

On him, on him! Look you how pale he glares!
His form and cause conjoined, preaching to stones,
Would make them capable.

[To the Ghost]

Do not look upon me,
Lest with this piteous action you convert
My stern effects. Then what I have to do
Will want true color, tears perchance for blood.

Queen

To whom do you speak this?

Hamlet

Do you see nothing there?

Queen

Nothing at all, yet all that is I see.

Hamlet

Nor did you nothing hear?

Queen

No, nothing but ourselves.

Hamlet

Why, look you there, look how it steals away!
My father in his habit as he lived.
Look where he goes, even now out at the portal!

Exit Ghost.

Queen

This is the very coinage of your brain.
This bodiless creation ecstasy
Is very cunning in.

Hamlet

Ecstasy?
My pulse as yours doth temperately keep time,
And makes as healthful music. It is not madness
That I have uttered. Bring me to the test,
And I the matter will reword, which madness
Would gambol from. Mother, for love of grace,
Lay not that flattering unction to your soul
That not your trespass but my madness speaks.
It will but skin and film the ulcerous place,
Whilst rank corruption, mining all within,
Infects unseen. Confess yourself to heaven,
Repent what's past, avoid what is to come,
And do not spread the compost o'er the weeds
To make them ranker. Forgive me this my virtue,
For in the fatness of these porsy times
Virtue itself of vice must pardon beg,
Yea, curb and woo for leave to do him good.

Queen

Oh, Hamlet, thou hast cleft my heart in twain.

Hamlet

Oh, throw away the worser part of it,
And live the purer with the other half.
Good night. But go not to my uncle's bed;
Assume a virtue if you have it not.
That monster custom, who all sense doth eat,
Of habits devil, is angel yet in this,

That to the use of actions fair and good
He likewise gives a frock or livery
That aptly is put on. Refrain tonight,
And that shall lend a kind of easiness
To the next abstinence; the next more easy:
For use almost can change the stamp of nature,
And either rein the devil, or throw him out
With wondrous potency. Once more good night,
And when you are desirous to be blest,
I'll blessing beg of you. For this same lord,
I do repent; but heaven hath pleased it so
To punish me with this, and this with me,
That I must be their scourge and minister.
I will bestow him, and will answer well
The death I gave him. So, again, good night.
I must be cruel only to be kind.
Thus bad begins, and worse remains behind.
One word more, good lady.

Queen

What shall I do?

Hamlet

Not this, by no means, that I bid you do:
Let the bloat King tempt you again to bed,
Pinch wanton on your cheek, call you his mouse,
And let him, for a pair of reechy kisses,
Or paddling in your neck with his damned fingers,
Make you to ravel all this matter out
That I essentially am not in madness,
But mad in craft. 'Twere good you let him know,
For who that's but a queen, fair, sober, wise,
Would from a paddock, from a bat, a gib,
Such dear concernings hide? Who would do so?
No, in despite of sense and secrecy,
Unpeg the basket on the house's top,
Let the birds fly, and like the famous ape,
To try conclusions, in the basket creep,
And break your own neck down.

Queen

Be thou assured, if words be made of breath
And breath of life, I have no life to breathe
What thou hast said to me.

Hamlet

I must to England. You know that?

Queen

Alack, I had forgot.
'Tis so concluded on.

Hamlet

There's letters sealed, and my two schoolfellows,
Whom I will trust as I will adders fanged,
They bear the mandate; they must sweep my way
And marshal me to knavery. Let it work,
For 'tis the sport to have the engineer
Hoist with his own petard, and't shall go hard
But I will delve one yard below their mines,
And blow them at the moon. Oh 'tis most sweet
When in one line two crafts directly meet.
This man shall set me packing.
I'll lug the guts into the neighbor room.
Mother, good night indeed. This counselor
Is now most still, most secret, and most grave,
Who was in life a foolish prating knave. --
Come, sir, to draw toward an end with you. --
Good night, mother.

Exit Hamlet, tugging in Polonius.

[4.1]

Enter King, with Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

King

There's matter in these sighs,
these profound heaves.
You must translate; 'tis fit we understand them.
Where is your son?

Queen

[To Rosencrantz and Guildenstern]

Bestow this place on us a little while.

[Exeunt Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.]

Ah, my good lord, what have I seen tonight!

King

What, Gertrude? How does Hamlet?

Queen

Mad as the sea and wind when both contend
Which is the mightier. In his lawless fit,
Behind the arras hearing something stir,
Whips out his rapier, cries, "A rat, a rat!"
And in this brainish apprehension kills
The unseen good old man.

King

Oh, heavy deed!
It had been so with us had we been there.
His liberty is full of threats to all --
To you yourself, to us, to everyone.
Alas, how shall this bloody deed be answered?
It will be laid to us, whose providence
Should have kept short, restrained, and out of haunt
This mad young man. But so much was our love,
We would not understand what was most fit,
But like the owner of a foul disease,
To keep it from divulging, let it feed
Even on the pith of life. Where is he gone?

Queen

To draw apart the body he hath killed,
O'er whom his very madness, like some ore
Among a mineral of metals base,
Shows itself pure: he weeps for what is done.

King

Oh, Gertrude, come away!
The sun no sooner shall the mountains touch
But we will ship him hence, and this vile deed
We must with all our majesty and skill
Both countenance and excuse. -- Ho, Guildenstern!

Enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.

Friends both, go join you with some further aid.
Hamlet in madness hath Polonius slain,
And from his mother's closet hath he dragged him.
Go seek him out, speak fair, and bring the body
Into the chapel. I pray you haste in this.

Exit Gentlemen [Rosencrantz and Guildenstern].

Come, Gertrude, we'll call up our wisest friends
To let them know both what we mean to do
And what's untimely done. So, haply, slander,
Whose whisper o'er the world's diameter,

As level as the cannon to his blank,
Transports his poisoned shot, may miss our name
And hit the woundless air. Oh, come away!
My soul is full of discord and dismay.

[4.2]

Enter Hamlet.

Hamlet

Safely stowed.

Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

within

Hamlet! Lord Hamlet!

Hamlet

But soft, what noise? Who calls on Hamlet?
Oh, here they come.

Enter Rosencrantz and Guildenstern

Rosencrantz

What have you done, my lord, with the dead body?

Hamlet

Compounded it with dust, whereto 'tis kin.

Rosencrantz

Tell us where 'tis, that we may take it thence
And bear it to the chapel.

Hamlet

Do not believe it.

Rosencrantz

Believe what?

Hamlet

That I can keep your counsel and not mine own.
Besides, to be demanded of a sponge, what replication should be made by the son of a king?

Rosencrantz

Take you me for a sponge, my lord?

Hamlet

Ay, sir, that soaks up the King's countenance, his rewards, his authorities. But such officers do the King best service in the end: he keeps them, like an ape an apple in the corner of his jaw, first mouthed to be last swallowed. When he needs what you have gleaned, it is but squeezing you, and, sponge, you shall be dry again.

Rosencrantz

I understand you not, my lord.

Hamlet

I am glad of it.

A knavish speech sleeps in a foolish ear.

Rosencrantz

My lord, you must tell us where the body is, and go with us to the King.

Hamlet

The body is with the King, but the King is not with the body. The King is a thing --

Guildenstern

A thing, my lord?

Hamlet

Of nothing. Bring me to him. Hide fox, and all after!

[4.3]

Enter King, and two or three.

King

I have sent to seek him and to find the body.
How dangerous is it that this man goes loose!
Yet must not we put the strong law on him;
He's loved of the distracted multitude,
Who like not in their judgment but their eyes,
And where 'tis so, th'offender's scourge is weighed,
But never the offense. To bear all smooth and even,
This sudden sending him away must seem Deliberate pause. Diseases desperate grown
By desperate appliance are relieved,
Or not at all.

Enter Rosencrantz.

King

How now, what hath befall'n?

Rosencrantz

Where the dead body is bestowed, my lord,
We cannot get from him.

King

But where is he?

Rosencrantz

Without, my lord, guarded, to know your pleasure.

King

Bring him before us.

Rosencrantz

[Calling]

Ho, Guildenstern! Bring in the lord.

Enter Hamlet and Guildenstern [with Guards].

King

Now Hamlet, where's Polonius?

Hamlet

At supper.

King

At supper? Where?

Hamlet

Not where he eats, but where he is eaten. A certain convocation of politic worms are e'en at him. Your worm is your only emperor for diet. We fat all creatures else to fat us, and we fat ourselves for maggots. Your fat king and your lean beggar is but variable service: two dishes but to one table. That's the end.

King

Alas, alas!

Hamlet

A man may fish with the worm that hath eat of a king, and eat of the fish that hath fed of that worm.

King

What dost thou mean by this?

Hamlet

Nothing but to show you how a king may go a progress through the guts of a beggar.

King

Where is Polonius?

Hamlet

In heaven. Send thither to see. If your messenger find him not there, seek him i'th' other place yourself. But if indeed you find him not within this month, you shall nose him as you go up the stairs into the lobby.

King

Go seek him there.

[To some attendants]

Hamlet

He will stay till you come.

[Exeunt attendants.]

King

Hamlet, this deed of thine, for thine especial safety -- Which we do tender, as we dearly grieve For that which thou hast done -- must send thee hence With fiery quickness. Therefore prepare thyself. The bark is ready, and the wind at help, Th'associates tend, and everything is bent For England.

Hamlet

For England!

King

Ay, Hamlet.

Hamlet

Good.

King

So is it if thou knew'st our purposes.

Hamlet

I see a cherub that sees them. But come, for England!
Farewell, dear mother.

King

Thy loving father, Hamlet.

Hamlet

My mother. Father and mother is man and wife, man and wife is one flesh, and so, my mother.
Come, for England!

Exit.

King

Follow him at foot. Tempt him with speed aboard.
Delay it not. I'll have him hence tonight.
Away! For everything is sealed and done
That else leans on th'affair. Pray you, make haste.

Exeunt all but the King.

And England, if my love thou hold'st at aught,
As my great power thereof may give thee sense,
Since yet thy cicatrice looks raw and red
After the Danish sword, and thy free awe
Pays homage to us, thou mayst not coldly set
Our sovereign process, which imports at full
By letters congruing to that effect
The present death of Hamlet. Do it, England,
For like the hectic in my blood he rages,
And thou must cure me. Till I know 'tis done,
Howe'er my haps, my joys were ne'er begun.

[4.4]

Enter Fortinbras [and a Captain] with his army over the stage.

Fortinbras

Go, captain, from me greet the Danish King.
Tell him that by his license Fortinbras
Craves the conveyance of a promised march
Over his kingdom. You know the rendezvous.
If that his majesty would aught with us,
We shall express our duty in his eye;
And let him know so.

Captain

I will do't, my lord.

Fortinbras

Go softly on.

[To his soldiers]

[Exeunt all but the Captain.]
Enter Hamlet, Rosencrantz, [Guildenstern,] etc.

Hamlet

Good sir, whose powers are these?

[To the Captain]

Captain

They are of Norway, sir.

Hamlet

How purposed, sir, I pray you?

Captain

Against some part of Poland.

Hamlet

Who commands them, sir?

Captain

The nephew to old Norway, Fortinbras.

Hamlet

Goes it against the main of Poland, sir,
Or for some frontier?

Captain

Truly to speak, and with no addition,
We go to gain a little patch of ground
That hath in it no profit but the name.
To pay five ducats, five, I would not farm it,
Nor will it yield to Norway or the Pole
A ranker rate, should it be sold in fee.

Hamlet

Why then the Polack never will defend it.

Captain

Yes, it is already garrisoned.
Two thousand souls and twenty thousand ducats
Will not debate the question of this straw.

Hamlet

This is th' impostume of much wealth and peace,
That inward breaks, and shows no cause without
Why the man dies. I humbly thank you, sir.

Captain

God b'wi' you, sir.

[Exit.]

Rosencrantz

Will't please you go, my lord?

Hamlet

I'll be with you straight. Go a little before.

[Exeunt all but Hamlet.]

How all occasions do inform against me,
And spur my dull revenge! What is a man
If his chief good and market of his time
Be but to sleep and feed? A beast, no more.
Sure he that made us with such large discourse,
Looking before and after, gave us not
That capability and godlike reason
To fust in us unused. Now, whether it be Bestial oblivion, or some craven scruple
Of thinking too precisely on th'event --
A thought which, quartered, hath but one part wisdom
And ever three parts coward -- I do not know
Why yet I live to say this thing's to do,
Sith I have cause, and will, and strength, and means
To do't. Examples gross as earth exhort me.
Witness this army of such mass and charge,
Led by a delicate and tender prince,
Whose spirit with divine ambition puffed
Makes mouths at the invisible event,
Exposing what is mortal and unsure
To all that fortune, death, and danger dare,
Even for an eggshell. Rightly to be great
Is not to stir without great argument,
But greatly to find quarrel in a straw
When honor's at the stake. How stand I, then,
That have a father killed, a mother stained,
Excitements of my reason and my blood,
And let all sleep, while to my shame I see
The imminent death of twenty thousand men
That for a fantasy and trick of fame
Go to their graves like beds, fight for a plot

Whereon the numbers cannot try the cause,
Which is not tomb enough and continent
To hide the slain? Oh, from this time forth,
My thoughts be bloody, or be nothing worth!

[4.5]

Enter Queen and Horatio.

Queen

I will not speak with her.

Horatio

She is importunate,
Indeed, distract. Her mood will needs be pitied.

Queen

What would she have?

Horatio

She speaks much of her father, says she hears
There's tricks i'th' world, and hems, and beats her heart,
Spurns enviously at straws, speaks things in doubt
That carry but half sense. Her speech is nothing,
Yet the unshapèd use of it doth move
The hearers to collection; they yawn at it,
And botch the words up fit to their own thoughts,
Which, as her winks and nods and gestures yield them,
Indeed would make one think there might be thought,
Though nothing sure, yet much unhappily.
'Twere good she were spoken with, for she may strew
Dangerous conjectures in ill-breeding minds.

Queen

Let her come in.

[Horatio withdraws to admit Ophelia.]

[Aside]

To my sick soul, as sin's true nature is,
Each toy seems prologue to some great amiss.
So full of artless jealousy is guilt,
It spills itself in fearing to be spilt.

Enter Ophelia distracted, playing on a lute,
and her hair down, singing.

Ophelia

Where is the beauteous majesty of Denmark?

Queen

How now, Ophelia?

Ophelia

How should I your true love know
From another one?
By his cockle hat and staff,
And his sandal shoon.

She sings.

Queen

Alas, sweet lady, what imports this song?

Ophelia

Say you? Nay, pray you, mark.

Song.

He is dead and gone, lady,
He is dead and gone.
At his head a grass-green turf,
At his heels a stone.

Oho!

Queen

Nay, but Ophelia--

Ophelia

Pray you, mark.

Song.

White his shroud as the mountain snow --

Enter King.

Queen

Alas, look here, my lord.

Ophelia

Larded with sweet flowers,
Which bewept to the grave did not go
With true-love showers.

[Song.]

King

How do you, pretty lady?

Ophelia

Well God'ield you. They say the owl was a baker's daughter. Lord, we know what we are, but know not what we may be. God be at your table!

King

Conceit upon her father.

Ophelia

Pray you, let's have no words of this, but when they ask you what it means, say you this:

Song.

Tomorrow is Saint Valentine's Day,
All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window
To be your Valentine.
Then up he rose, and donned his clothes
And dupper the chamber door,
Let in the maid, that out a maid
Never departed more.

King

Pretty Ophelia--

Ophelia

Indeed, la? Without an oath I'll make an end on't.

[Song.]

By Gis and by Saint Charity,
Alack, and fie for shame!
Young men will do't if they come to't;
By Cock, they are to blame.
Quoth she, "Before you tumbled me,
You promised me to wed."
"So would I ha' done, by yonder sun,
An thou hadst not come to my bed."

King

How long hath she been thus?

Ophelia

I hope all will be well. We must be patient.
But I cannot choose but weep to think they would lay him i'th' cold ground. My brother shall know of it.
And so I thank you for your good counsel.

Come, my coach! Good night, ladies, good night, sweet ladies, good night, good night.

Exit.

King

[To Horatio.]

Follow her close. Give her good watch, I pray you.

[Exit Horatio.]

Oh, this is the poison of deep grief! It springs
All from her father's death, and now behold!
Oh, Gertrude, Gertrude,
When sorrows come, they come not single spies
But in battalions. First, her father slain;
Next, your son gone, and he most violent author
Of his own just remove; the people muddied,
Thick and unwholesome in their thoughts and whispers
For good Polonius' death, and we have done but greenly
In higger-mugger to inter him; poor Ophelia
Divided from herself and her fair judgment,
Without the which we are pictures or mere beasts;
Last, and as much containing as all these,
Her brother is in secret come from France,
Feeds on this wonder, keeps himself in clouds,
And wants not buzzers to infect his ear
With pestilent speeches of his father's death,
Wherein necessity, of matter beggared,
Will nothing stick our person to arraign
In ear and ear. O my dear Gertrude, this,
Like to a murd'ring piece, in many places
Gives me superfluous death.

A noise within. Enter a Messenger.

Queen

Alack, what noise is this?

King

Where is my Switzers? Let them guard the door.
What is the matter?

Messenger

Save yourself, my lord!
The ocean, overpeering of his list,
Eats not the flats with more impiteous haste
Than young Laertes, in a riotous head,
O'erbears your officers. The rabble call him lord,
And, as the world were now but to begin,

Antiquity forgot, custom not known,
The ratifiers and props of every word,
They cry, "Choose we! Laertes shall be king!"
Caps, hands, and tongues applaud it to the clouds:
"Laertes shall be king, Laertes king!"

Queen

How cheerfully on the false trail they cry!

A noise within.

Oh, this is counter, you false Danish dogs!

King

The doors are broke.

Enter Laertes with others.

Laertes

Where is this king? -- Sirs, stand you all without.

All

No, let's come in.

Laertes

I pray you, give me leave.

All

We will, we will.

Laertes

I thank you. Keep the door.

[Exeunt followers.]

O thou vile king,
Give me my father!

Queen

Calmly, good Laertes.

Laertes

That drop of blood that's calm proclaims me bastard,
Cries "Cuckold!" to my father, brands the harlot
Even here between the chaste unsmirchèd brow
Of my true mother.

King

What is the cause, Laertes,
That thy rebellion looks so giant-like? --

Let him go, Gertrude. Do not fear our person.
There's such divinity doth hedge a king
That treason can but peep to what it would,
Acts little of his will. -- Tell me, Laertes,
Why thou art thus incensed? -- Let him go, Gertrude. -- Speak, man.

Laertes

Where is my father?

King

Dead.

Queen

But not by him.

King

Let him demand his fill.

Laertes

How came he dead? I'll not be juggled with.
To hell, allegiance! Vows, to the blackest devil!
Conscience and grace, to the profoundest pit!
I dare damnation. To this point I stand,
That both the worlds I give to negligence,
Let come what comes, only I'll be revenged
Most thoroughly for my father.

King

Who shall stay you?

Laertes

My will, not all the world.
And for my means, I'll husband them so well
They shall go far with little.

King

Good Laertes,
If you desire to know the certainty
Of your dear father's death, is't writ in your revenge
That, swoopstake, you will draw both friend and foe,
Winner and loser?

Laertes

None but his enemies,

King

Will you know them, then?

Laertes

To his good friends thus wide I'll ope my arms,
And, like the kind life-rend'ring pelican,
Repast them with my blood.

King

Why, now you speak
Like a good child and a true gentleman.
That I am guiltless of your father's death,
And am most sensibly in grief for it,
It shall as level to your judgment 'pear
As day does to your eye.

A noise within.

Voices within

Let her come in!

Laertes

How now, what noise is that?

Enter Ophelia, as before.

O heat, dry up my brains! Tears seven times salt
Burn out the sense and virtue of mine eye!
By heaven, thy madness shall be paid by weight
Till our scale turns the beam. O rose of May,
Dear maid, kind sister, sweet Ophelia!
O heavens, is't possible a young maid's wits
Should be as mortal as an old man's life?
Nature is fine in love, and where 'tis fine
It sends some precious instance of itself
After the thing it loves.

Ophelia

Song.

They bore him bare-faced on the bier,
Hey non nonny, nonny, hey nonny,
And on his grave rained many a tear.

Fare you well, my dove.

Laertes

Hadst thou thy wits, and didst persuade revenge,
It could not move thus.

Ophelia

You must sing "a-down, a-down," an you call him "a-down-a." Oh, how the wheel becomes it! It is the false steward that stole his master's daughter.

Laertes

This nothing's more than matter.

Ophelia

There's rosemary; that's for remembrance.
Pray you, love, remember.
And there is pansies; that's for thoughts.

Laertes

A document in madness, thoughts and remembrance fitted.

Ophelia

There's fennel for you, and columbines.
There's rue for you, and here's some for me;
we may call it herb of grace o'Sundays.
Oh, you must wear your rue with a difference.
There's a daisy. I would give you some violets, but they withered all when my father died.
They say he made a good end.

[She sings.]

For bonny sweet Robin is all my joy.

Laertes

Thought and afflictions, passion, hell itself
She turns to favor and to prettiness.

Ophelia

And will he not come again?
And will he not come again?
No, no, he is dead,
Go to thy deathbed,
He never will come again.
His beard was as white as snow,
All flaxen was his poll.

Song.

He is gone, he is gone,
And we cast away moan.
God 'a' mercy on his soul!

And of all Christian souls, I pray God.
God b'wi' you!

Exeunt Ophelia [and the Queen, following her.]

Laertes

Do you see this, O God?

King

Laertes, I must commune with your grief,
Or you deny me right. Go but apart,
Make choice of whom your wisest friends you will,
And they shall hear and judge 'twixt you and me.
If by direct or by collateral hand
They find us touched, we will our kingdom give,
Our crown, our life, and all that we call ours
To you in satisfaction; but if not,
Be you content to lend your patience to us,
And we shall jointly labor with your soul
To give it due content.

Laertes

Let this be so.
His means of death, his obscure burial --
No trophy, sword, nor hatchment o'er his bones,
No noble rite, nor formal ostentation --
Cry to be heard as 'twere from heaven to earth,
That I must call't in question.

King

So you shall,
And where th'offense is, let the great ax fall.
I pray you go with me.

[4.6]

Enter Horatio, with an Attendant [i.e., Servingman].

Horatio

What are they that would speak with me?

Servingman

Sailors, sir. They say they have letters for you.

Horatio

Let them come in.

[Exit Servingman.]

I do not know from what part of the world
I should be greeted, if not from Lord Hamlet.

Enter Sailors.

Sailor

God bless you, sir.

Horatio

Let him bless thee too.

Sailor

'A shall, sir, an't please him. There's a letter for you, sir. It comes from th'ambassador that was bound for England, if your name be Horatio, as I am let to know it is.

[He gives a letter.]

Horatio

Reads the letter

Horatio, when thou shalt have overlooked this,
give these fellows some means to the King;
they have letters for him. Ere we were two days old at sea, a pirate of very warlike appointment gave us chase. Finding ourselves too slow of sail, we put on a compelled valor, and in the grapple
I boarded them. On the instant they got clear of our ship, so I alone became their prisoner. They have dealt with me like thieves of mercy, but they knew what they did: I am to do a good turn for them.
Let the King have the letters I have sent, and repair thou to me with as much haste as thou wouldest fly death. I have words to speak in thine ear will make thee dumb, yet are they much too light for the bore of the matter. These good fellows will bring thee where I am. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern hold their course for England. Of them I have much to tell thee.
Farewell. He that thou knowest thine, Hamlet.

Come, I will give you way for these your letters,
And do't the speedier that you may direct me
To him from whom you brought them.

[4.7]

Enter King and Laertes.

King

Now must your conscience my acquittance seal,
And you must put me in your heart for friend,
Sith you have heard, and with a knowing ear,
That he which hath your noble father slain
Pursued my life.

Laertes

It well appears. But tell me
Why you proceeded not against these feats
So crimeful and so capital in nature,
As by your safety, greatness, wisdom, all things else,
You mainly were stirred up.

King

Oh for two special reasons,
Which may to you perhaps seem much unsinewed,
And yet to me they're strong. The Queen his mother
Lives almost by his looks, and for myself --
My virtue or my plague, be it either which --
She's so conjunctive to my life and soul
That, as the star moves not but in his sphere,
I could not but by her. The other motive
Why to a public count I might not go
Is the great love the general gender bear him,
Who, dipping all his faults in their affection,
Would, like the spring that turneth wood to stone,
Convert his gyves to graces, so that my arrows,
Too slightly timbered for so loud a wind,
Would have reverted to my bow again,
And not where I had aimed them.

Laertes

And so have I a noble father lost,
A sister driven into desp'rate terms,
Whose worth, if praises may go back again,
Stood challenger on mount of all the age
For her perfections. But my revenge will come.

King

Break not your sleeps for that. You must not think
That we are made of stuff so flat and dull
That we can let our beard be shook with danger

And think it pastime. You shortly shall hear more.
I loved your father, and we love ourself,
And that, I hope, will teach you to imagine --

Enter a Messenger with letters.

King

How now? What news?

Messenger

Letters, my lord, from Hamlet.
This to your majesty, this to the Queen.

[He gives letters.]

King

From Hamlet! Who brought them?

Messenger

Sailors, my lord, they say. I saw them not.
They were given me by Claudio. He received them.

King

Laertes, you shall hear them.

[To the Messenger]

Leave us.

Exit Messenger.

[He reads.]

High and mighty, you shall know I am set naked on your kingdom. Tomorrow shall I beg leave to see your kingly eyes, when I shall (first asking your pardon thereunto) recount the occasion of my sudden and more strange return.
Hamlet.

What should this mean? Are all the rest come back?
Or is it some abuse, and no such thing?

Laertes

Know you the hand?

King

'Tis Hamlet's character. "Naked" --
And in a postscript here he says "alone."
Can you advise me?

Laertes

I am lost in it, my lord. But let him come.

It warms the very sickness in my heart
That I shall live and tell him to his teeth
"Thus diddest thou."

King

If it be so, Laertes --
As how should it be so, how otherwise? --
Will you be ruled by me?

Laertes

Ay, my lord,
If so you'll not o'errule me to a peace.

King

To thine own peace. If he be now returned
As checking at his voyage, and that he means
No more to undertake it, I will work him
To an exploit, now ripe in my device,
Under the which he shall not choose but fall;
And for his death no wind of blame shall breathe,
But even his mother shall uncharge the practice
And call it accident.

Laertes

My lord, I will be ruled,
The rather if you could devise it so
That I might be the organ.

King

It falls right.
You have been talked of since your travel much,
And that in Hamlet's hearing, for a quality
Wherein they say you shine. Your sum of parts
Did not together pluck such envy from him
As did that one, and that, in my regard,
Of the unworthiest siege.

Laertes

What part is that, my lord?

King

A very ribbon in the cap of youth,
Yet needful too, for youth no less becomes
The light and careless livery that it wears

Than settled age his sables and his weeds
Importing health and graveness. Some two months since
Here was a gentleman of Normandy.
I have seen myself, and served against, the French,
And they can well on horseback, but this gallant
Had witchcraft in't; he grew into his seat,
And to such wondrous doing brought his horse
As he had been encorpsed and demi-natured
With the brave beast. So far he passed my thought
That I in forgery of shapes and tricks
Come short of what he did.

Laertes

A Norman was't?

King

A Norman.

Laertes

Upon my life, Lamord.

King

The very same.

Laertes

I know him well. He is the brooch indeed
And gem of all the nation.

King

He made confession of you,
And gave you such a masterly report
For art and exercise in your defense,
And for your rapier most especially,
That he cried out 'twould be a sight indeed
If one could match you. Th'escriimers of their nation,
He swore, had neither motion, guard, nor eye
If you opposed them. Sir, this report of his
Did Hamlet so envenom with his envy
That he could nothing do but wish and beg
Your sudden coming o'er to play with him.
Now, out of this --

Laertes

What out of this, my lord?

King

Laertes, was your father dear to you?
Or are you like the painting of a sorrow,
A face without a heart?

Laertes

Why ask you this?

King

Not that I think you did not love your father,
But that I know love is begun by time,
And that I see, in passages of proof,
Time qualifies the spark and fire of it.
There lives within the very flame of love
A kind of wick or snuff that will abate it,
And nothing is at a like goodness still,
For goodness, growing to a pleurisy,
Dies in his own too-much. That we would do
We should do when we would, for this "would" changes
And hath abatements and delays as many
As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents,
And then this "should" is like a spendthrift's sigh,
That hurts by easing. But to the quick of th'ulcer:
Hamlet comes back. What would you undertake
To show yourself your father's son in deed
More than in words?

Laertes

To cut his throat i'th' church.

King

No place, indeed, should murder sanctuarize.
Revenge should have no bounds. But, good Laertes,
Will you do this: keep close within your chamber.
Hamlet returned shall know you are come home.
We'll put on those shall praise your excellence
And set a double varnish on the fame
The Frenchman gave you, bring you in fine together,
And wager on your heads. He being remiss,
Most generous, and free from all contriving,
Will not peruse the foils, so that with ease,
Or with a little shuffling, you may choose
A sword unbated, and in a pass of practice

Requite him for your father.

Laertes

I will do't,
And for that purpose I'll anoint my sword.
I bought an unction of a mountebank
So mortal that, but dip a knife in it,
Where it draws blood no cataplasm so rare,
Collected from all simples that have virtue
Under the moon, can save the thing from death
That is but scratched withal. I'll touch my point
With this contagion, that if I gall him slightly,
It may be death.

King

Let's further think of this,
Weigh what convenience both of time and means
May fit us to our shape. If this should fail,
And that our drift look through our bad performance,
'Twere better not assayed. Therefore this project
Should have a back or second, that might hold
If this should blast in proof. Soft, let me see.
We'll make a solemn wager on your cunnings --
I ha't!
When in your motion you are hot and dry --
As make your bouts more violent to that end --
And that he calls for drink, I'll have prepared him
A chalice for the nonce, whereon but sipping,
If he by chance escape your venom'd stuck,
Our purpose may hold there.

Enter Queen.

How now, sweet queen?

Queen

One woe doth tread upon another's heel,
So fast they follow. Your sister's drowned, Laertes.

Laertes

Drowned! Oh, where?

Queen

There is a willow grows aslant a brook
That shows his hoar leaves in the glassy stream.
Therewith fantastic garlands did she make

Of crowsflowers, nettles, daisies, and long purples,
That liberal shepherds give a grosser name,
But our cold maids do dead men's fingers call them.
There on the pendant boughs her coronet weeds
Clamb'ring to hang, an envious sliver broke,
When down her weedy trophies and herself
Fell in the weeping brook. Her clothes spread wide,
And mermaid-like awhile they bore her up,
Which time she chanted snatches of old lauds,
As one incapable of her own distress,
Or like a creature native and endued
Unto that element. But long it could not be Till that her garments, heavy with their drink,
Pulled the poor wretch from her melodious lay
To muddy death.

Laertes

Alas, then she is drowned.

Queen

Drowned, drowned.

Laertes

Too much of water hast thou, poor Ophelia,
And therefore I forbid my tears. But yet
It is our trick; nature her custom holds,
Let shame say what it will.

[He weeps.]

When these are gone,
The woman will be out. Adieu, my lord.
I have a speech of fire that fain would blaze,
But that this folly douts it.

Exit.

King

Let's follow, Gertrude.
How much I had to do to calm his rage!
Now fear I this will give it start again;
Therefore let's follow.

[5.1]

Enter two Clowns [with spades and mattocks].

Clown

Is she to be buried in Christian burial, that willfully seeks her own salvation?

Other

I tell thee she is, and therefore make her grave straight.
The crowner hath sat on her, and finds it Christian burial.

Clown

How can that be, unless she drowned herself in her own defense?

Other

Why, 'tis found so.

Clown

It must be se offendendo, it cannot be else, for here lies the point: if I drown myself wittingly, it argues an act, and an act hath three branches:
it is to act, to do, and to perform. Argal, she drowned herself wittingly.

Other

Nay, but hear you, Goodman Delver.

Clown

Give me leave. Here lies the water; good.
Here stands the man; good. If the man go to this water and drown himself, it is, will he, nill he, he goes.
Mark you that. But if the water come to him and drown him, he drowns not himself. Argal, he that is not guilty of his own death shortens not his own life.

Other

But is this law?

Clown

Ay, marry, is't -- crowner's quest law.

Other

Will you ha' the truth on't? If this had not been a gentlewoman, she should have been buried out o'Christian burial.

Clown

Why, there thou say'st. And the more pity that great folk should have countenance in this world to drown or hang themselves more than their even-Christian.

Come, my spade. There is no ancient gentlemen but gardeners, ditchers, and gravemakers.
They hold up Adam's profession.

Other

Was he a gentleman?

Clown

He was the first that ever bore arms.

Other

Why, he had none.

Clown

What, art a heathen? How dost thou understand the Scripture? The Scripture says Adam digged. Could he dig without arms? I'll put another question to thee.
If thou answerest me not to the purpose, confess thyself --

Other

Go to.

Clown

What is he that builds stronger than either the mason, the shipwright, or the carpenter?

Other

The gallows-maker, for that frame outlives a thousand tenants.

Clown

I like thy wit well, in good faith, the gallows does well.
But how does it well? It does well to those that do ill.
Now, thou dost ill to say the gallows is built stronger than the church. Argal, the gallows may do well to thee.
To't again, come.

Other

"Who builds stronger than a mason, a shipwright, or a carpenter?"

Clown

Ay, tell me that, and unyoke.

Other

Marry, now I can tell.

Clown

To't.

Other

Mass, I cannot tell.

Enter Hamlet and Horatio afar off.

Clown

Cudgel thy brains no more about it, for your dull ass will not mend his pace with beating; and when you are asked this question next, say "a grave-maker." The houses that he makes lasts till doomsday. Go get thee to Johan. Fetch me a stoup of liquor.

[Exit Second Clown.] [The First Clown digs.]
Sings.

In youth when I did love, did love,
Methought it was very sweet
To contract--oh--the time for--a--my behove,
Oh, methought there--a--was nothing--a--meet.

Hamlet

Has this fellow no feeling of his business, that he sings at grave-making?

Horatio

Custom hath made it in him a property of easiness.

Hamlet

'Tis e'en so. The hand of little employment hath the daintier sense.

Clown

Clown sings.

But age with his stealing steps
Hath clawed me in his clutch,
And hath shipped me into the land,
As if I had never been such.

[The Clown throws up a skull.]

Hamlet

That skull had a tongue in it and could sing once.
How the knave jowls it to the ground, as if 'twere Cain's jawbone, that did the first murder! This might be the pate of a politician, which this ass now o'er-offices, one that would circumvent God, might it not?

Horatio

It might, my lord.

Hamlet

Or of a courtier, which could say, "Good morrow, sweet lord, how dost thou, good lord?"

This might be my Lord Such-a-one, that praised my Lord Such-a-one's horse when he meant to beg it, might it not?

Horatio

Ay, my lord.

Hamlet

Why, e'en so. And now my Lady Worm's, chapless, and knocked about the mazard with a sexton's spade.
Here's fine revolution, an we had the trick to see't.
Did these bones cost no more the breeding but to play at loggets with 'em? Mine ache to think on't.

Clown

A pickax and a spade, a spade,
For and a shrouding sheet;
Oh, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

Sings.

[He throws up another skull.]

Hamlet

There's another. Why might not that be the skull of a lawyer? Where be his quiddities now, his quilllets, his cases, his tenures, and his tricks?
Why does he suffer this rude knave now to knock him about the sconce with a dirty shovel, and will not tell him of his action of battery? Hum! This fellow might be in's time a great buyer of land, with his statutes, his recognizances, his fines, his double vouchers, his recoveries. Is this the fine of his fines, and the recovery of his recoveries, to have his fine pate full of fine dirt? Will his vouchers vouch him no more of his purchases, and double ones too, than the length and breadth of a pair of indentures?
The very conveyances of his lands will hardly lie in this box, and must th'inheritor himself have no more, ha?

Horatio

Not a jot more, my lord.

Hamlet

Is not parchment made of sheepskins?

Horatio

Ay, my lord, and of calves' skins too.

Hamlet

They are sheep and calves which seek out assurance in that.
I will speak to this fellow. -- Whose grave's this, sirrah?

Clown

Mine, sir.

[Sings.]

Oh, a pit of clay for to be made
For such a guest is meet.

Hamlet

I think it be thine indeed, for thou liest in't.

Clown

You lie out on't, sir, and therefore 'tis not yours.
For my part, I do not lie in't, and yet it is mine.

Hamlet

Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say 'tis thine.
'Tis for the dead, not for the quick; therefore thou liest.

Clown

'Tis a quick lie, sir; 'twill away again from me to you.

Hamlet

What man dost thou dig it for?

Clown

For no man, sir.

Hamlet

What woman, then?

Clown

For none, neither.

Hamlet

Who is to be buried in't?

Clown

One that was a woman, sir, but, rest her soul, she's dead.

Hamlet

[To Horatio]

How absolute the knave is! We must speak by the card, or equivocation will undo us. By the Lord, Horatio, these three years I have taken note of it, the age is grown so picked that the toe of the peasant comes so near the heel of the courtier he galls his kibe. -- How long hast thou been grave-maker?

Clown

Of all the days i'th' year, I came to't that day that our last King Hamlet overcame Fortinbras.

Hamlet

How long is that since?

Clown

Cannot you tell that? Every fool can tell that. It was the very day that young Hamlet was born -- he that is mad and sent into England.

Hamlet

Ay, marry, why was he sent into England?

Clown

Why, because he was mad. 'A shall recover his wits there, or if he do not, 'tis no great matter there.

Hamlet

Why?

Clown

'Twill not be seen in him there. There the men are as mad as he.

Hamlet

How came he mad?

Clown

Very strangely, they say.

Hamlet

How strangely?

Clown

Faith, e'en with losing his wits.

Hamlet

Upon what ground?

Clown

Why, here in Denmark. I have been sexton here, man and boy, thirty years.

Hamlet

How long will a man lie i'th' earth ere he rot?

Clown

I'faith, if he be not rotten before he die -- as we have many pocky corsers nowadays that will scarce hold the laying in -- he will last you some eight year, or nine year. A tanner will last you nine year.

Hamlet

Why he more than another?

Clown

Why, sir, his hide is so tanned with his trade that he will keep out water a great while; and your water is a sore decayer of your whoreson dead body.

[He picks up a skull.]

Here's a skull now hath lain you i'th' earth three-and-twenty years.

Hamlet

Whose was it?

Clown

A whoreson mad fellow's it was. Whose do you think it was?

Hamlet

Nay, I know not.

Clown

A pestilence on him for a mad rogue!
'A poured a flagon of Rhenish on my head once.
This same skull, sir, was Yorick's skull, the King's jester.

Hamlet

This?

Clown

E'en that.

Hamlet

Let me see.

[taking the skull]

Alas, poor Yorick! I knew him, Horatio, a fellow of infinite jest, of most excellent fancy. He hath borne me on his back a thousand times, and now how abhorred in my imagination it is! My gorge rises at it. Here hung those lips that I have kissed I know not how oft. -- Where be your gibes now? Your gambols, your songs, your flashes of merriment that were wont to set the table on a roar? Not one now to mock your own grinning? Quite chopfall'n? Now get you to my lady's chamber and tell her, let her paint an inch thick, to this favor she must come. Make her laugh at that. Prithee, Horatio, tell me one thing.

Horatio

What's that, my lord?

Hamlet

Dost thou think Alexander looked o'this fashion i'th' earth?

Horatio

E'en so.

Hamlet

And smelt so? Puh!

[He throws the skull down.]

Horatio

E'en so, my lord.

Hamlet

To what base uses we may return, Horatio!
Why may not imagination trace the noble dust of Alexander till 'a find it stopping a bunghole?

Horatio

'Twere to consider too curiously to consider so.

Hamlet

No, faith, not a jot. But to follow him thither with modesty enough, and likelihood to lead it,
as thus: Alexander died, Alexander was buried,
Alexander returneth into dust, the dust is earth,
of earth we make loam, and why of that loam
whereto he was converted might they not stop a beer-barrel?
Imperial Caesar, dead and turned to clay,
Might stop a hole to keep the wind away.
Oh, that that earth which kept the world in awe
Should patch a wall t'expel the winter's flaw!

Enter King, Queen, Laertes, and a coffin
[containing the corpse of Ophelia, in funeral procession, with the "Doctor" or Priest], with Lords attendant.

But soft, but soft; aside! Here comes the King,
The Queen, the courtiers. Who is this they follow?
And with such maimèd rites? This doth betoken
The corse they follow did with desp'rate hand
Fordo its own life. 'Twas of some estate.
Couch we awhile and mark.

[Hamlet and Horatio conceal themselves.
Ophelia's body is taken to the grave.]

Laertes

What ceremony else?

Hamlet

[Aside to Horatio]

That is Laertes, a very noble youth. Mark.

Laertes

What ceremony else?

Priest

Her obsequies have been as far enlarged
As we have warrantise. Her death was doubtful,
And, but that great command o'ersways the order,
She should in ground unsanctified have lodged

Till the last trumpet. For charitable prayers,
Shards, flints, and pebbles should be thrown on her;
Yet here she is allowed her virgin crants,
Her maiden strewments, and the bringing home
Of bell and burial.

Laertes

Must there no more be done?

Priest

No more be done.
We should profane the service of the dead
To sing sage requiem and such rest to her
As to peace-parted souls.

Laertes

Lay her i'th' earth,
And from her fair and unpolluted flesh
May violets spring! I tell thee, churlish priest,
A minist'ring angel shall my sister be
When thou liest howling.

Hamlet

[To Horatio]

What, the fair Ophelia!

Queen

[Scattering flowers]

Sweets to the sweet! Farewell.
I hoped thou shouldst have been my Hamlet's wife.
I thought thy bride-bed to have decked, sweet maid,
And not t'have strewed thy grave.

Laertes

Oh, treble woe
Fall ten times treble on that cursèd head
Whose wicked deed thy most ingenious sense
Deprived thee of! -- Hold off the earth awhile,
Till I have caught her once more in mine arms.

[He] leaps in the grave.

Now pile your dust upon the quick and dead,
Till of this flat a mountain you have made
T'o'ertop old Pelion, or the skyish head
Of blue Olympus.

Hamlet

[Coming forward]

What is he whose grief
Bears such an emphasis, whose phrase of sorrow
Conjures the wand'ring stars, and makes them stand
Like wonder-wounded hearers? This is I,
Hamlet the Dane.

Laertes

[Grappling with Hamlet]

The devil take thy soul!

Hamlet

Thou pray'st not well.
I prithee take thy fingers from my throat,
For, though I am not splenative and rash,
Yet have I something in me dangerous,
Which let thy wiseness fear. Away thy hand!

King

Pluck them asunder.

Queen

Hamlet, Hamlet!

All

Gentlemen!

Horatio

Good my lord, be quiet.

[Hamlet and Laertes are parted.]

Hamlet

Why, I will fight with him upon this theme
Until my eyelids will no longer wag.

Queen

Oh, my son, what theme?

Hamlet

I loved Ophelia. Forty thousand brothers
Could not with all their quantity of love
Make up my sum. -- What wilt thou do for her?

King

Oh, he is mad, Laertes.

Queen

For love of God, forbear him.

Hamlet

'Swounds, show me what thou'lt do.
Woo't weep? Woo't fight? Woo't fast? Woo't tear thyself?
Woo't drink up eisel? Eat a crocodile?
I'll do't. Dost thou come here to whine?
To outface me with leaping in her grave?
Be buried quick with her, and so will I.
And if thou prate of mountains, let them throw
Millions of acres on us, till our ground,
Singeing his pate against the burning zone,
Make Ossa like a wart. Nay, an thou'lt mouth,
I'll rant as well as thou.

Queen

This is mere madness,
And thus awhile the fit will work on him;
Anon, as patient as the female dove
When that her golden couplets are disclosed,
His silence will sit drooping.

Hamlet

Hear you, sir,
What is the reason that you use me thus?
I loved you ever. But it is no matter.
Let Hercules himself do what he may,
The cat will mew, and dog will have his day.

[To Laertes]

Exit Hamlet.

King

I pray you, good Horatio, wait upon him.

And Horatio [exits too].

[Aside to Laertes]

Strengthen your patience in our last night's speech;
We'll put the matter to the present push. --
Good Gertrude, set some watch over your son. --
This grave shall have a living monument.
An hour of quiet thereby shall we see;
Till then, in patience our proceeding be.

[5.2]

Enter Hamlet and Horatio.

Hamlet

So much for this, sir. Now let me see, the other.
You do remember all the circumstance?

Horatio

Remember it, my lord!

Hamlet

Sir, in my heart there was a kind of fighting
That would not let me sleep. Methought I lay
Worse than the mutines in the bilboes. Rashly,
And praised be rashness for it: let us know,
Our indiscretion sometime serves us well
When our deep plots do pall, and that should learn us
There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
Rough-hew them how we will.

Horatio

That is most certain.

Hamlet

Up from my cabin,
My sea-gown scarfed about me, in the dark
Groped I to find out them, had my desire,
Fingered their packet, and in fine withdrew
To mine own room again, making so bold,
My fears forgetting manners, to unseal
Their grand commission; where I found, Horatio --
Oh, royal knavery! -- an exact command,
Larded with many several sorts of reasons
Importing Denmark's health, and England's too,
With, ho! such bugs and goblins in my life,
That on the supervise, no leisure bated,
No, not to stay the grinding of the ax,
My head should be struck off.

Horatio

Is't possible?

Hamlet

[Showing a document]

Here's the commission. Read it at more leisure.
But wilt thou hear me how I did proceed?

Horatio

I beseech you.

Hamlet

Being thus benetted round with villainies --
Ere I could make a prologue to my brains,
They had begun the play -- I sat me down,
Devised a new commission, wrote it fair.
I once did hold it, as our statistes do,
A baseness to write fair, and labored much
How to forget that learning; but, sir, now
It did me yeoman's service. Wilt thou know
Th'effect of what I wrote?

Horatio

Ay, good my lord.

Hamlet

An earnest conjuration from the King,
As England was his faithful tributary,
As love between them like the palm should flourish,
As peace should still her wheaten garland wear
And stand a comma 'tween their amities,
And many suchlike "as"es of great charge,
That on the view and knowing of these contents,
Without debatement further, more or less,
He should the bearers put to sudden death,
Not shriving time allowed.

Horatio

How was this sealed?

Hamlet

Why, even in that was heaven ordinant.
I had my father's signet in my purse,
Which was the model of that Danish seal;
Folded the writ up in the form of th'other,
Subscribed it, gave't th'impression, placed it safely,
The changeling never known. Now the next day
Was our sea fight, and what to this was sequent
Thou know'st already.

Horatio

So Guildenstern and Rosencrantz go to't.

Hamlet

Why, man, they did make love to this employment.
They are not near my conscience. Their defeat
Doth by their own insinuation grow.
'Tis dangerous when the baser nature comes
Between the pass and fell incensèd points
Of mighty opposites.

Horatio

Why, what a King is this!

Hamlet

Does it not, think'st thee, stand me now upon --
He that hath killed my King and whored my mother,
Popped in between th'election and my hopes,
Thrown out his angle for my proper life,
And with such coz'nage -- is't not perfect conscience
To quit him with this arm? And is't not to be damned
To let this canker of our nature come
In further evil?

Horatio

It must be shortly known to him from England
What is the issue of the business there.

Hamlet

It will be short.
The interim's mine, and a man's life's no more
Than to say "one". But I am very sorry, good Horatio,
That to Laertes I forgot myself,
For by the image of my cause I see
The portraiture of his. I'll court his favors.
But sure the bravery of his grief did put me
Into a tow'ring passion.

Horatio

Peace, who comes here?

Enter young Osric, a courtier.

Osric

Your lordship is right welcome back to Denmark.

Hamlet

I humbly thank you, sir.

[Aside to Horatio]

Dost know this water-fly?

Horatio

No, my good lord.

[Aside to Hamlet]

Hamlet

Thy state is the more gracious, for 'tis a vice to know him. He hath much land, and fertile. Let a beast be lord of beasts, and his crib shall stand at the King's mess. 'Tis a chough, but, as I say, spacious in the possession of dirt.

[Aside to Horatio]

Osric

Sweet lord, if your lordship were at leisure, I should impart a thing to you from his majesty.

Hamlet

I will receive it, sir, with all diligence of spirit. Put your bonnet to his right use. 'Tis for the head.

Osric

I thank your lordship, it is very hot.

Hamlet

No, believe me, 'tis very cold. The wind is northerly.

Osric

It is indifferent cold, my lord, indeed.

Hamlet

But yet methinks it is very sultry and hot for my complexion.

Osric

Exceedingly, my lord, it is very sultry, as 'twere -- I cannot tell how. But, my lord, his majesty bade me signify to you that he has laid a great wager on your head. Sir, this is the matter --

Hamlet

[Reminding Osric once more about his hat]

I beseech you, remember.

Osric

Nay, good my lord, for mine ease, in good faith.
Sir, here is newly come to court Laertes -- believe me, an absolute gentlemen, full of most excellent differences, of very soft society and great showing. Indeed, to speak feelingly of him, he is the card or calendar of gentry, for you shall find in him the continent of what part a gentleman would see.

Hamlet

Sir, his definement suffers no perdition in you, though I know to divide him inventorially would dazzle th'arithmetic of memory, and yet but yaw neither, in respect of his quick sail. But in the verity of extolment, I take him to be a soul of great article, and his infusion of such dearth and rareness as,
to make true diction of him, his semblable is his mirror,
and who else would trace him, his umbrage, nothing more.

Osric

Your lordship speaks most infallibly of him.

Hamlet

The concernancy, sir?
Why do we wrap the gentleman in our more rawer breath?

Osric

Sir?

Horatio

[To Hamlet]

Is't not possible to understand in another tongue?
You will to't, sir, really.

Hamlet

[To Osric]

What imports the nomination of this gentleman?

Osric

Of Laertes?

Horatio

[To Hamlet]

His purse is empty already; all's golden words are spent.

Hamlet

[To Osric]

Of him, sir.

Osric

I know you are not ignorant --

Hamlet

I would you did, sir. Yet in faith if you did, it would not much approve me. Well, sir?

Osric

Sir, you are not ignorant of what excellence Laertes is --

Hamlet

I dare not confess that, lest I should compare with him in excellence. But to know a man well were to know himself.

Osric

I mean, sir, for his weapon. But in the imputation laid on him by them, in his meed he's unfellowed.

Hamlet

What's his weapon?

Osric

Rapier and dagger.

Hamlet

That's two of his weapons -- but well.

Osric

The King, sir, hath wagered with him six Barbary horses, against the which he has impawned, as I take it, six French rapiers and poniards, with their assigns, as girdle, hangers, or so. Three of the carriages, in faith, are very dear to fancy, very responsive to the hilts, most delicate carriages, and of very liberal conceit.

Hamlet

What call you the carriages?

Horatio

[To Hamlet]

I knew you must be edified by the margin ere you had done.

Osric

The carriages, sir, are the hangers.

Hamlet

The phrase would be more germane to the matter if we could carry cannon by our sides; I would it might be "hangers" till then. But on. Six Barbary horses against six French swords, their assigns, and three liberal-conceited carriages: that's the French bet against the Danish. Why is this all "impawned," as you call it?

Osric

The King, sir, hath laid, sir, that in a dozen passes between yourself and him, he shall not exceed you three hits. He hath laid on't twelve for nine, and it would come to immediate trial, if your lordship would vouchsafe the answer.

Hamlet

How if I answer no?

Osric

I mean, my lord, the opposition of your person in trial.

Hamlet

Sir, I will walk here in the hall. If it please his majesty, it is the breathing time of day with me. Let the foils be brought, the gentleman willing, and the King hold his purpose, I will win for him an I can; if not, I will gain nothing but my shame and the odd hits.

Osric

Shall I re-deliver you e'en so?

Hamlet

To this effect, sir, after what flourish your nature will.

Osric

I commend my duty to your lordship.

Hamlet

Yours, yours.

[Exit Osric.]

He does well to commend it himself; there are no tongues else for's turn.

Horatio

This lapwing runs away with the shell on his head.

Hamlet

He did comply with his dug before he sucked it. Thus has he, and many more of the same bevy that I know the drossy age dotes on, only got the tune of the time and outward habit of encounter, a kind of yeasty collection, which carries them through and through the most fanned and winnowed opinions; and do but blow them to their trial, the bubbles are out.

Enter a Lord.

Lord

My lord, his majesty commended him to you by young Osric, who brings back to him that you attend him in the hall. He sends to know if your pleasure hold to play with Laertes, or that you will take longer time?

Hamlet

I am constant to my purposes; they follow the King's pleasure. If his fitness speaks, mine is ready now or whensoever, provided I be so able as now.

Lord

The King and Queen and all are coming down.

Hamlet

In happy time.

Lord

The Queen desires you to use some gentle entertainment to Laertes before you fall to play.

Hamlet

She well instructs me.

[Exit Lord.]

Horatio

You will lose this wager, my lord.

Hamlet

I do not think so. Since he went into France,
I have been in continual practice; I shall win at the odds. But thou wouldst not think how ill all's here about my heart, but it is no matter.

Horatio

Nay, good my lord --

Hamlet

It is but foolery, but it is such a kind of gaingiving as would perhaps trouble a woman.

Horatio

If your mind dislike anything, obey it.
I will forestall their repair hither and say you are not fit.

Hamlet

Not a whit, we defy augury. There's a special providence in the fall of a sparrow. If it be now,
'tis not to come; if it be not to come, it will be now;
if it be not now, yet it will come. The readiness is all.
Since no man has aught of what he leaves, what is't to leave betimes?
Let be.

Trumpets, drums, and officers with cushions.
Enter King, Queen, and Lords [including Laertes and Osric, and all the state], with other Attendants with foils and gauntlets, a table, and flagons of wine on it.

King

Come, Hamlet, come, and take this hand from me.

[The King puts Laertes's hand into Hamlet's.]

Hamlet

[To Laertes]

Give me your pardon, sir. I've done you wrong,
But pardon't as you are a gentleman.
This presence knows,

And you must needs have heard, how I am punished
With a sore distraction. What I have done
That might your nature, honor, and exception
Roughly awake, I hear proclaim was madness.
Was't Hamlet wronged Laertes? Never Hamlet.
If Hamlet from himself be ta'en away,
And when he's not himself does wrong Laertes,
Then Hamlet does it not; Hamlet denies it.
Who does it, then? His madness. If't be so,
Hamlet is of the faction that is wronged;
His madness is poor Hamlet's enemy.
Sir, in this audience
Let my disclaiming from a purposed evil
Free me so far in your most generous thoughts
That I have shot my arrow o'er the house
And hurt my brother.

Laertes

I am satisfied in nature,
Whose motive in this case should stir me most
To my revenge. But in my terms of honor
I stand aloof, and will no reconciliation,
Till by some elder masters of known honor
I have a voice and precedent of peace
To keep my name ungored. But till that time
I do receive your offered love like love,
And will not wrong it.

Hamlet

I do embrace it freely,
And will this brother's wager frankly play. --
Give us the foils. Come on.

Laertes

Come, one for me.

Hamlet

I'll be your foil, Laertes. In mine ignorance
Your skill shall like a star i'th' darkest night
Stick fiery off indeed.

Laertes

You mock me, sir.

Hamlet

No, by this hand.

King

Give them the foils, young Osric.

[Foils are handed to Hamlet and Laertes.]

Cousin Hamlet,
You know the wager.

Hamlet

Very well, my lord.
Your grace hath laid the odds o'th'weaker side.

King

I do not fear it;
I have seen you both.
But since he is bettered, we have therefore odds.

Laertes

This is too heavy. Let me see another.

[He exchanges his foil for another.]

Hamlet

This likes me well.
These foils have all a length?

Osric

Ay, my good lord.

[They] prepare to play.

King

Set me the stoups of wine upon that table.
If Hamlet give the first or second hit,
Or quit in answer of the third exchange,
Let all the battlements their ordnance fire.
The King shall drink to Hamlet's better breath,
And in the cup an union shall he throw
Richer than that which four successive kings
In Denmark's crown have worn. Give me the cups,
And let the kettle to the trumpet speak,
The trumpet to the cannoneer without,
The cannons to the heavens, the heaven to earth,
"Now the King drinks to Hamlet." Come, begin.

Trumpets the while.

And you, the judges, bear a wary eye.

Hamlet

Come on, sir.

Laertes

Come, my lord.

They play. [Hamlet scores a hit.]

Hamlet

One.

Laertes

No.

Hamlet

Judgment.

[To Osric]

Osric

A hit, a very palpable hit.

Laertes

Well, again.

King

Stay. Give me drink.

Hamlet this pearl is thine.

[He drinks, and throws a pearl in Hamlet's cup.]

Here's to thy health. -- Give him the cup.

Trumpets sound, and shot goes off.

Hamlet

I'll play this bout first. Set it by awhile.

Come.

[They fence.]

Another hit. What say you?

Laertes

A touch, a touch, I do confess.

King

Our son shall win.

[To the Queen]

Queen

He's fat and scant of breath. --

Here, Hamlet, take my napkin, rub thy brows.

[The Queen takes a cup of wine to offer a toast to Hamlet.]

The Queen carouses to thy fortune, Hamlet.

Hamlet

Good madam.

King

Gertrude, do not drink.

Queen

I will, my lord, I pray you pardon me.

[She drinks.]

King

[Aside]

It is the poisoned cup. It is too late.

Hamlet

I dare not drink yet, madam; by and by.

Queen

Come, let me wipe thy face.

Laertes

[Aside to the King]

My lord, I'll hit him now.

King

[Aside to Laertes]

I do not think't.

Laertes

[Aside]

And yet 'tis almost 'gainst my conscience.

Hamlet

Come for the third,

Laertes, you do but dally.

I pray you, pass with your best violence;

I am afeard you make a wanton of me.

Laertes

Say you so? Come on.

[They] play.

Osric

Nothing neither way.

Laertes

Have at you now!

[Laertes wounds Hamlet with his unbated rapier.]
In scuffling they change rapiers. [Hamlet wounds Laertes.]

King

Part them! They are incensed.

Hamlet

Nay, come again.

[Laertes falls down. The Queen falls down.]

Osric

Look to the Queen there, ho!

Horatio

They bleed on both sides.

[To Hamlet]

How is it, my lord?

Osric

How is't, Laertes?

Laertes

Why, as a woodcock to mine own springe, Osric;
I am justly killed with mine own treachery.

Hamlet

How does the Queen?

King

She swoons to see them bleed.

Queen

No, no, the drink, the drink, O my dear Hamlet,
The drink, the drink! I am poisoned.

[She dies.]

Hamlet

Oh, villainy! Ho! Let the door be locked.
Treachery! Seek it out.

[Exit Osric.]

Laertes

It is here, Hamlet.

Hamlet, thou art slain.
No med'cine in the world can do thee good;
In thee there is not half an hour of life.
The treacherous instrument is in thy hand,
Unbated and envenomed. The foul practice
Hath turned itself on me. Lo, here I lie
Never to rise again. Thy mother's poisoned.
I can no more. The King, the King's to blame.

Hamlet

The point envenomed too?
Then, venom, to thy work.

[He] hurts the King.

All

Treason, treason!

King

Oh, yet defend me, friends, I am but hurt.

Hamlet

[Forcing the King to drink]

Here, thou incestuous, murd'rous, damnèd Dane,
Drink off this potion. Is thy union here?
Follow my mother.

The King dies.

Laertes

He is justly served.
It is a poison tempered by himself.
Exchange forgiveness with me, noble Hamlet.
Mine and my father's death come not upon thee,
Nor thine on me!

[He] dies.

Hamlet

Heaven make thee free of it! I follow thee.
I am dead, Horatio. Wretched Queen, adieu.
You that look pale and tremble at this chance,
That are but mutes or audience to this act,
Had I but time, as this fell sergeant Death
Is strict in his arrest, oh, I could tell you --
But let it be. Horatio, I am dead,
Thou liv'st. Report me and my cause aright
To the unsatisfied.

Horatio

Never believe it.
I am more an antique Roman than a Dane.

[He attempts to drink from the poisoned cup, but is prevented by Hamlet.]

Hamlet

As thou'rt a man,
Give me the cup! Let go! By heaven I'll ha't.
Oh, God, Horatio, what a wounded name,
Things standing thus unknown, shall live behind me!
If thou didst ever hold me in thy heart,
Absent thee from felicity awhile,
And in this harsh world draw thy breath in pain
To tell my story.

March afar off, and shout within.

What warlike noise is this?

Enter Osric.

Osric

Young Fortinbras, with conquest come from Poland,
To th'ambassadors of England gives this warlike volley.

Hamlet

Oh, I die, Horatio.
The potent poison quite o'ercrows my spirit.
I cannot live to hear the news from England,
But I do prophesy th'election lights
On Fortinbras. He has my dying voice.
So tell him, with th'occurrences more and less
Which have solicited. The rest is silence.
Oh, oh, oh, oh!

[He] dies.

Horatio

Now cracks a noble heart. Good night, sweet prince,
And flights of angels sing thee to thy rest!

[March within.]

Why does the drum come hither?

Enter Fortinbras and the English Ambassadors, with Drum, Colors, and Attendants.

Fortinbras

Where is this sight?

Horatio

What is it ye would see?
If aught of woe or wonder, cease your search.

Fortinbras

This quarry cries on havoc. O proud Death,
What feast is toward in thine eternal cell,
That thou so many princes at a shot
So bloodily hast struck?

Ambassador

The sight is dismal,
And our affairs from England come too late.
The ears are senseless that should give us hearing,
To tell him his commandment is fulfilled,
That Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead.
Where should we have our thanks?

Horatio

Not from his mouth,
Had it th'ability of life to thank you;
He never gave commandment for their death.
But since so jump upon this bloody question
You from the Polack wars and you from England
Are here arrived, give order that these bodies
High on a stage be placèd the view,
And let me speak to th'yet unknowing world
How these things came about. So shall you hear
Of carnal, bloody, and unnatural acts,
Of accidental judgments, casual slaughters,
Of deaths put on by cunning and forced cause,
And in this upshot, purposes mistook
Fall'n on th'inventors' heads. All this can I Truly deliver.

Fortinbras

Let us haste to hear it,
And call the noblest to the audience.
For me, with sorrow I embrace my fortune.
I have some rights of memory in this kingdom,
Which now to claim my vantage doth invite me.

Horatio

Of that I shall have also cause to speak,
And from his mouth
whose voice will draw on more.
But let this same be presently performed,

Even while men's minds are wild,
lest more mischance
On plots and errors happen.

Fortinbras

Let four captains
Bear Hamlet like a soldier to the stage,
For he was likely, had he been put on,
To have proved most royal; and for his passage,
The soldiers' music and the rites of war
Speak loudly for him.
Take up the body. Such a sight as this Becomes the field, but here shows much amiss.
Go, bid the soldiers shoot.

Exeunt marching, after the which a peal of ordnance are shot off.
